Board Authorizes 3 New Classrooms For Horace Mann

Cramer and Schrader Win Contract. Submit
Low Bid of $32,369; Contractors Agree
To Finish Addition by Opening of School

The low bid by Cramer and Schrader for the construction of three additional classrooms at Horace Mann School this summer was accepted Tuesday night by the Sedalia Board of Education at a special meeting.

The board also authorized the appraisal of the Parkway area, bounded by Limit, Warren and Fifth and Seventh, for possible purchase negotiations or condemnation proceedings for a building site.

It also: (1) approved the decision of the building committee on the major building improvements to be made this summer; (2) heard the annual enumeration report by Supt. Heber Hunt; (3) elected Ben Moore industrial arts teacher at Smith-Cotton, to replace Richard Brown, who resigned; and (4) purchased a new mower.

The new rooms at Horace Mann will all be second floor rooms, two above the present east wing and the third above the west wing that connects with the gymnasium. A small storage room will also adjoin the third classroom.

The Cramer and Schrader bid was the lowest of four submitted and opened Tuesday night. It proposed $30,719, plus an alternate bid of $1,650 to complete covering the floors in the rest of the building with asphalt tile, a total of $32,369.

The other bids were Patterson Brothers, $35,560 and $2,160, a total of $37,720; Stevens Construction Co., $39,594 and $2,130, a total of $41,724; and Dean Construction Co., $36,255 and $2,925, a total of $39,180.

The specifications include the requirement that the project be completed by Sept. 1, with a penalty clause for each day for each day past that deadline.

Arthur J. P. Schwarz and Associates are the architects for the new rooms. Burl Sammons, Schwarz associate, explained to the board that the contract and the plans call for everything but the heating system in the three rooms. He said that some question existed about whether the present boiler in the school would be sufficient to handle the entire heating load. It might be, he said, that a separate boiler will have to be installed to handle heat for the gymnasium building. He said that a heating engineer is due in Sedalia Wednesday to examine the problem and decide whether an auxiliary boiler is necessary. If it is, separate bids for its purchase and installation will be requested.

Board members were pleased at the low bid received, since the 1954-55 budget approved last month included an estimate of $37,000 for the construction of the three rooms and the asphalt tile. The bid, plus the architect's fee of six per cent, falls well within that figure.

Attorneys Chester Wolfe and Frank W. Hayes reported to the board the result of their search for bids by owners at two building sites being considered by the board and the board chose to concentrate its efforts toward securing the Parkway area. It contains about 7½ acres.

Also under consideration had been the Dundee area, bounded by Limit, Main, the alley between Dundee and Gentry, and the alley between Third and Liberty Park Blvd. The board decided to inform owners in this area that the area is not being considered for the time being.

Picked to conduct the appraisal of the Parkway area were three real estate firms: Carl and Oswald, the Donohue Loan and Investment Co., and the Porter Real Estate Co. Their report is expected in about a week, and the board will reconvene at that time, probably on Friday, May 18.

Supt. Hunt reported that the annual enumeration reveals 421 more children of school age — from six through 21 — than last year. The total count this year, including the children in the newly annexed area west of the city, came to 4,459, as compared with 4,032 last year.

This will mean an increase in state aid through the free textbook fund, at the rate of $3.25 per child, of $1,368.25 for total of $14,472.25. The special railroad tax is also based on enumeration and there will be a corresponding increase in the railroad tax receipts. Since this is prorated, no definite figure can be given.

The board authorized Tuesday night the purchase of a Sisyphus mower, with sully, for $548.10.

Just Get Splashes

Black clouds hovered over Sedalia last night for several hours, but when they finally gave up their contents, we got only the splashes from what must have been good rains to the north.

Generally fair tonight and Thursday. Low tonight in the upper 40s. High Thursday in the 70s.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 48; 64 at 1 p. m., and 65 at 2 p. m.

One year ago today here high 71, low 50; two years ago 68, 46; three years ago 34, 63.

Sacred Heart's Class Night Service Tonight

By Barbara Lampy
Sacred Heart High's class night, the annual convocation of honors, will be held tonight, May 19, in the Sacred Heart gymnasium, at 8 p. m. The solemn, impressive ceremony of presentation of awards will mark the fulfillment of the students' aspirations for the 1953-54 school year and of the graduates high school goals.

Beginning with the procession of graduates to the palm-decked stage, the program will proceed as follows: "The School Song" by the assembly; "The Salutatory" by Lorraine Johnson, senior class president; presentation of awards by Rev. A. J. Brunswick, C.P.P.S.; "With Thou Look Upon Me Mother," by the senior class; "The Valedictory," by Richard Stohr; and "Alma Mater" by the senior class.

Being Shown Thursday, Friday—

First Christian Church's Own Movie Tells of Church Progress

The Rev. David Bryan Wrote Script. Took Pictures, Directed Action and Sound
Tracking for First Film by Single Church

A color-sound hour-long movie has been produced by the First Christian Church here and was shown for the first time at a fellowship dinner last evening. The movie deals with the life and work of the local church and is entitled, "The Inside Story." David M. Bryan, pastor of the church, says that he has never heard of another church that ever produced a full-length color-sound movie of its own life and work.

Bryan has been an amateur photographer for quite a number of years but he reports that this is the most ambitious project he ever undertook in color movies. Mr. Bryan directed the production of the movie from the beginning to the end. He wrote the script, and then he did the photography, and then directed the sound tracking of the finished movie.

So much interest has been expressed in the release of the movie that it has been scheduled to be shown three nights during this week. Last night was the first time and then it will be shown again on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week at 7:30 o'clock. Anyone is welcome to come.

The movie was designed to give the people a better understanding of the total program of the church. Its plot begins to unravel when one of the members of the church, Roy Dawson, 1701 West 16th, gets a letter from the stewardship department of the church suggesting that he might help underwrite the church's program.

Mr. Dawson declares that he can't understand what the church does with all of its money and that he is going to tell the preacher just where he stands. Then follows a scene in the office in which the minister begins to show his parishioner just what the church budget really means in terms of the life and the work and the worship of its people.

As they talk about the program of the church the scene fades out and then follows a long series of scenes depicting the actual life and work of the church and its various phases from the church school, to building maintenance, to the worship of the church, and the program of fellowship. The mission program of the church is not left out either for Mr. Bryan has incorporated some movies he took in India and in Malaya which are used as he explains the mission program to the irate member.

Of course, like any good movie, the hero is converted by what he has seen, and becomes an ardent promoter of his church.

Mr. Bryan said that if he realized just how many hours would have been involved in the production of an hour-long color-sound movie he doubts that he would have ever had the courage to begin the task. But now that the work is over, he and the people of the First Christian Church are proud of this pictorial record of the life and the work and the worship of their people, "The Inside Story."

H5 at Medical Forum on Cancer Held Tuesday Nite

One hundred and fifteen persons attended the Medical Forum held at the Little Theatre of Smith-Cotton High School Tuesday night under the joint sponsorship of the Pettis County Medical Society and the Sedalia Democrat-Capital.

The program was presented by the medical society and included two films on cancer and then a question and answer discussion period of one hour concerning the disease. Three doctors constituted the panel to answer questions from the audience.

Dr. Pete Siegel, president of the society presided and presented the three doctors on the panel: Dr. J. W. Boger, Dr. A. L. Walter and Dr. Don Proctor. Many questions were asked about cancer, its causes and its cures, as well as symptoms of the disease.

In the answers of the doctors, and in the two films which were shown, it was pointed out that cancer can be cured provided it is caught in time.

Floors Are Poured For School Building

A. C. Teague, superintendent of schools at Knob Noster, reports that concrete floors are now being poured for the new school building east of the present building. Footings and foundation are complete. The work is being done by William S. Ravlinas, Kansas City.

Mrs. Pearl Goodwin, route 1, reports a barnyard oddity. A three-legged rooster struts about as if nothing were unusual. He also has two tails. He seems normal in every other respect, and is in good health. He is two months old.

Ike Would Regard Western Dictator A 'Terrible Thing'

Makes Statement in Relation to State Dept.
Announcement Monday Night Red Poland
Has Shipped Considerable Arms to Guatemala

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower, commenting on shipment of arms from Red Poland to Guatemala, said today it would be a terrible thing if a Communist dictatorship were established on this continent.

Eisenhower made the statement at a news conference in which he also said he has no intention of rescinding or relaxing his order prohibiting disclosure of what went on at a Jan. 21 meeting of high administration officials dealing with the Army-McCarthy dispute.

He denied that the order was designed to halt the Senate inquiry into the row between Sen. McCarthy, R-Wis., and the Army. He said he wanted the hearings continued until all of the main issues have been resolved. With emphasis, he said he is for letting the chips fall where they may and for getting the facts out.

As for the situation in Guatemala, the President was questioned with relation to the State Department announcement Monday night that quantities of arms have been shipped to that Central American country from the port of Stettin in Communist Poland.

Eisenhower called that disturbing, and added that the situation highlighted the reasons why an anti-Communist resolution recently was adopted at the Inter-American Conference in Caracas.

Then he said that to have a Communist dictatorship established as an outpost on this continent would be a terrible thing.

On other subjects the President had this to say:

SEGREGATION—In a response to a question, the President said he has not the slightest advice for the South on how to carry out the Supreme Court decision holding that segregation of whites and Negroes in public schools is unconstitutional.

The President added, however, that he has sworn to uphold the Constitution and that he intends to do just that.

Asked whether the court decision might have placed his administration on a political hot spot, he said he was handed down during the regime of the Republicans, the President shot back that the Supreme Court is not under any administration.

The President also was asked whether the court ruling might alienate some of his personal political supporters in the South. His reply was that he has stood always for honest, decent government and always will.

So far as political support is concerned, he added that the voters will have to make their own decisions on that.

TVA CHAIRMAN—Eisenhower said his choice of a chairman for the Tennessee Valley Authority board of directors will be announced just as soon as he finds a man who is completely non-political, professionally qualified, one who agrees with him on the philosophy of government and whose integrity is beyond reproach.

That remark was prompted by a question as to when he plans either to reappoint Gordon R. Clapp to a new term as TVA chairman, or select someone else. Clapp's term as chairman expired yesterday and the post now is vacant.

Earlier in the news conference, Eisenhower spoke of Clapp as a man who has operated without fear or favor. But he gave no hint then or later as to whether he plans to appoint Clapp to a new term.

SOUTHEAST ASIA—Eisenhower said it might be possible to point a sword against communism in Southeast Asia without the participation of Britain. Asked whether the United States would act without Britain, he replied that it depended on the attitude of the proper Asiatic nations and Australia and New Zealand.

ATOMIC ENERGY POOL—He was asked about reports that there had been a breakdown in negotiations with Russia on creation of an atomic pool for peaceful purposes as he proposed last Dec. 8. The President said he is studying just as hard as he can to find some way the United States can move ahead in some enlightened way without, as he put it, waiting for the rest.

That was as close as he came to any indication on whether he regards the talks with Russia as deadlocked.

Nevada Annexes 200 Acres North of Town

NEVADA — Annexation of 200 acres of land to the north of the city was approved, 166 to 17, in a special election here yesterday.

The new Nevadan Corporation factory is located in that area and the annexation step was taken to provide the factory with municipal services. The matter must now be approved by the Vernon County Circuit Court.

S-C Commencement

Commencement exercises for the Smith-Cotton graduating seniors will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday at the Johnnie Hayes Lewis Memorial Stadium. The public is invited.

ATOMIC ENERGY CHAIRMAN—Eisenhower said he has the utmost faith in Lewis L. Strauss as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. He added that if he were certain he always would have a man like Strauss as chairman, he would be in favor of giving him plenty of authority.

His questioner on that matter said there is a move on in Congress to make the AEC chairman in effect the head man of the five member agency. At present all five members have equal authority.

The President said no recommendations on that subject have reached him.

HOUSING—Eisenhower said he had been very pleased to learn that the Senate Banking Committee had voted, as he put it, to restore his housing program. He apparently was referring to the committee's restoration of a provision authorizing the public housing program features of his proposal in that general field. The provision submitted by the administration had been knocked out in the House.

The President expressed the hope that Senate-House conferees named to reconcile differences in the two versions will accept the Senate plan definitely and unequivocally.

McCarthy Rejects 'Stacked Deck'—

Ike Calls for Mac-Army Hearings To Continue Without Secrecy Lift

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower today called for the McCarthy Army hearings to continue with his disputed secrecy order intact, but Sen. McCarthy declared he didn't want to go ahead with a stacked deck.

McCarthy said news he didn't know just what course he would take in the light of the President's stand.

"I'm willing to play with any kind of deck they use but I don't think anyone on my staff should have to," he said.

McCarthy in a news conference, had declared he wanted the hearings to go on, with all of the principals telling their story, "as they see it."

I want to see this thing settled conclusively, and so that we do know the facts, let the chips fall where they may."

The White House gave emphasis to these remarks by authorizing Eisenhower's pronouncement.

The President said he wasn't going to withdraw his order barring testimony about confidential talks among government officials on the row. He said he was "astonished" it was being used as a reason for excusing the hearings.

Eisenhower's pronouncement was the key one in a day of multiple statements and maneuvers which apparently left a majority of the Senate investigations subcommittee ready to take up the televised public hearings next Monday.

The big question was whether McCarthy might decide he would have nothing further to do with them since he contends the President's order makes it impossible to get at the full truth.

That was the question the Senator left unanswered by saying he didn't know what his course would be.

Secretary of the Army Stevens removed a main point of concern among some members of the investigating subcommittee as to the presidential order.

Stevens said in a statement that the Army and the Army alone was responsible for its charges that McCarthy and his aides—Roy M. Cohn, general counsel, and Francis P. Carr, staff director—exerted improper pressures for preferential treatment of Pvt. G. David Schine.

Schine, wealthy New Yorker, was an unpaid staff consultant to the McCarthy subcommittee until he was drafted last fall.

Eisenhower's order cut off the senators from probing into a Jan. 21 conference at the Justice Department attended by White House aides and other which dealt with the Army's difficulties with McCarthy.

One of the questions McCarthy and others raised was whether "higher ups" in the Eisenhower administration then took over direction of the Army's course in dealing with McCarthy.

Sens. McClellan (D-Ark.) and Jackson (D-Wash.) said the Stevens statement clarified that, although McClellan said he wanted Stevens to repeat it under oath.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) said he saw no reason why the hearings should not be resumed.

Acting Chairman Mundt (R-S.D.) said Stevens' statement "certainly minimizes the impact" of the executive order.

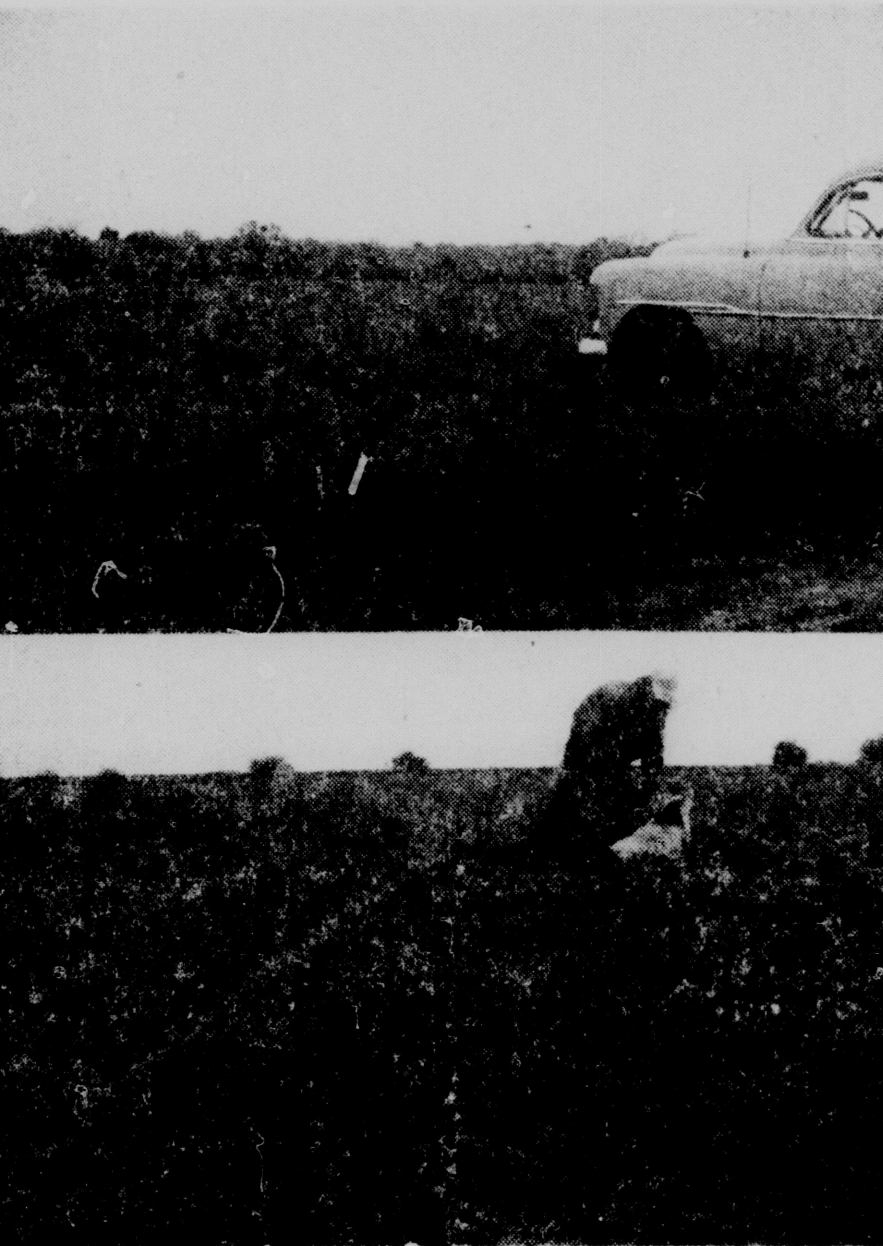

McCarthy had described the order as a "blackout" and said it will be impossible to get at the facts in the controversy without testimony as to what took place at the Jan. 21 conference.

When the hearings were suspended for a week on Monday, Mundt was instructed to take up with the administration the question of whether the presidential order could be modified.

Mundt was meeting with Atty. Gen. Brownell on that when word was brought of Stevens' statement.

Mundt said he, Brownell and Committee Counsel Ray Jenkins all agreed there was no use in further discussion of the order after that.

Mundt said the hearings will be resumed next Monday at 10 a. m. EDT (8 a. m. CST).

ON ALFALFA TOUR—These pictures are of some of the alfalfa fields that will be visited on the Pettis County alfalfa tour Friday afternoon, May 21. The bottom picture shows Wilton Edger and his dog, "Collie," in one of the three fields on the R. D. Shelton farm a mile south of Hughesville. At top is the two year old stand on the Wilburn Hayes farm, located six miles northeast of Hughesville. Alfalfa crops are being planted in the field crops, and Alf Edwards, assistant agricultural editor, will be along on the trip. Of course, Fleetwood will be answering questions and commenting on the various fields.

Peace Talks Are Snarled By Demands

REDS ASK TO HAVE
LAOS, CAMBODIA
INVITED TO GENEVA

GENEVA — The Indochina peace talks were snarled today by new Communist demands that the Vietnamese "resistance governments" of Laos and Cambodia be invited to take part in the Geneva conference.

The French contend these are phony governments created by the Communists to stall the negotiations here. The Western powers have declared firmly they will never consent to participation of such regimes in the Indochina talks.

The Communist demands were pressed at this afternoon's secret session by the Vietnamese Deputy Premier Pham Van Dong in a long speech. The representatives of the Associated States of Indochina, Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia, were expected to reply later.

The Red demand was linked with Western proposals for the problem of Laos and Cambodia to be separated from that of Viet Nam, which has borne the brunt of the Indochina war. With the West and the Communists already deadlocked over this, the Communist move served only to tighten the knot.

Meanwhile, Red China's delegation accused the United States of trying to block progress of the conference and sabotaging the work of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission in Korea.

In a statement, the Chinese took the U.S. delegation to task for releasing a letter two days ago by the Swedish and Swiss members of the supervisory commission. The letter charged Polish and Czech members of the commission with obstructing the body's work in Korea.

In another development, the French met with Vietnamese representatives to discuss the evacuation of the wounded from Dien Bien Phu.

The top diplomats of the Western Big Three discussed strategy for more than two hours this morning at British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's villa. There was no official announcement as to their decisions.

France and the United States were reported pushing plans for a Southeast Asia pact.

A source close to French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault said secret French-American talks which have been going on in Washington, Paris and Geneva the past few days would continue regardless of how the Geneva party progressed.

Work Proceeds Well On Knob Noster's New Sewer System

Work is proceeding well in the construction of Knob Noster's new $119,000 sewer system, according to Mayor O'Bannon Marshall.

Ditching and laying of tile has been under way for about two weeks, he said, beginning at the site of the new disposal plant and going east. The Koch Excavation Co., Independence, is handling the work.

The disposal plant was begun Tuesday by Riley and Stiers, St. Louis. Pouring of concrete will begin shortly. The whole project is expected to be completed in about four months.

Francis J. Fabick Heads Missouri CAP

ST. LOUIS — Francis J. Fabick, 38, of St. Louis, has been named commander of the Missouri wing of the Civil Air Patrol, succeeding Victor R. Freer of Joplin, who has been promoted to deputy regional director.

The change in commanders will result in the moving of headquarters from Joplin to St. Louis. There are four full-time employees.

MoPac Removes 2 Trains

No. 19 and No. 14
Being Eliminated
Through Sedalia,
Effective Sunday

The Missouri Pacific announced changes in train service for the Kansas City-St. Louis run, through Sedalia, which would eliminate two of the crack trains serving this area. Said to be in effect Sunday, May 23, the two trains being eliminated would be No. 19, westbound, which arrives here at 9:25 p. m. and No. 14, eastbound which arrives at 5:45 p. m.

These two trains, the MoPac reports, will be consolidated with No. 15, westbound, which arrives at 5:45 p. m. and No. 6, eastbound, which gets to Sedalia at 2:10 p. m.

With the elimination of these two trains, Sedalia will still be served with four trains daily both east and west, as follows:

Eastbound
No. 12—8:35 a. m.
No. 10—2:15 a. m.
No. 20—4:20 a. m.
No. 6—2:10 p. m.

Westbound
No. 15—5:45 p. m.
No. 11—7:10 p. m.
No. 5—12:15 p. m.
No. 9—4:20 a. m.

Under the consolidation arrangement, Train 15 westbound will leave St. Louis 2:10 p. m., arriving Kansas City 8:20 p. m. Eastbound Train 6 will leave Kansas City 12:01 p. m., arriving St. Louis 5:40 p. m.

The through sleeping car between St. Louis and Wichita, which now leaves St. Louis in Train 19 at 5 p. m., will be transferred to Train No. 9 and leave at 11:50 p. m., arriving Wichita 7:20 a. m. Wichita 3 p. m. Eastbound, this sleeper will leave Wichita 4:30 p. m., Kansas City 11:30 p. m., arriving in St. Louis at 7:28 a. m.

Trains 419 and 420, operating between Pleasant Hill, Mo., Ft. Scott and Wichita, Kansas, will be renumbered Trains 425 and 426, and the schedules changed to leave Pleasant Hill 7:30 a. m., arriving Wichita 3 p. m. Eastbound, Train 426 will leave Wichita 4:30 p. m., arriving Pleasant Hill 10:45 p. m. The eastbound train, No. 425, will connect at Pleasant Hill with Train 10, leaving at 12:35 a. m. for St. Louis. Westbound, Train No. 9, leaving St. Louis 11:50 p. m., will connect with Train 425 for Wichita and intermediate points. A grill coach will provide lunch on the westbound trip and dinner on the eastbound journey.

In the announcement of the MoPac management today, no reason was given for discontinuance of the service along the main line across Missouri.

It was understood in Sedalia today that several business firms were planning to register protests of the elimination of the two trains with the Missouri Public Service Commission, Jefferson City.

Jefferson City Files Protest on MoPac Act

JEFFERSON CITY — The city council voted last night to protest a Missouri Pacific Railroad plan to suspend two passenger trains serving Jefferson City.

One No. 19 westbound arriving here at 8 p. m. and the other No. 14 eastbound arriving at 7:15 p. m. Mayor Arthur W. Ellis said a Missouri Pacific official had advised him it was unprofitable to operate the trains. The council instructed City Attorney Thomas B. Rose to protest both to the railroad and the State Public Service Commission.

Crossroads Comment ... by G.H.S.

The Sedalia Air Force Base newspaper, "Skywriter," notes that there are no free traffic tickets in Sedalia. "Sedalia Air Force Base airmen and officers paid a total of $485 in traffic fines in Sedalia alone during the month of April."

A check with city Hall reveals a total of $1,426.00 was collected in traffic fines levied in 58 of 75 cases during April. The charges against the others were dismissed, except for one which was continued. Thus the airmen paid 34 per cent of the total amount of fines.

The breakdown in traffic cases in April is as follows:

27 Speeding.
19 Careless and Imprudent.
13 Intoxicated driving.
8 Left turns.
4 Running red light.
2 Alley blocking.
1 Running red light.
1 Blocking driveway.

Sedalia needs more speed warning signs on Broadway-Highway 50. This is only fair to the airmen and others passing through Sedalia. As it stands Broadway is a speed trap for the unwary.

If the city can't afford it perhaps all the service clubs might start a joint project to buy a couple dozen signs. Stan, with his newly acquired profits from the Skywriter, will buy one; the Republican Capital will buy one; and The Democratic Democrat will buy another, and still another might be bought by the newly designated INDEPENDENT Times. Who you kiddin', Stan?

Super Speed Bomber May Be Nearer

WASHINGTON, P.—A test model of a faster-than-sound bomber may be flying within the next year.

High priority is known to have been given the project by the Air Force, which has watched with evident concern Soviet progress in both bomber and fighter-interceptor designs.

This interest sharpened with the display two weeks ago of a new heavy Russian bomber driven by jet engines of substantially greater power than any now in operational use by the U.S. Air Force.

The Air Force announced in December 1952 that it had asked Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp., builder of the B-36 piston jet engine heavy bomber, to prepare detailed design studies for a "super-sonic bomber."

Since then, it was learned today, substantial progress has been made toward production of a prototype B58 jet bomber.

The increasing speed of new fighter models, both Russian and American, is a factor in the urgent push for development of a super-sonic bomber. The United States, and quite probably Russia, already has bombers in production that fly at the speed of sound (761 miles an hour at sea level, decreasing as altitude increases up to a certain point).

If interceptors are up to sonic or super-sonic speed, then bombers must be as fast or faster if they are to be expected to reach their targets.

In addition to the matter of bomber - vs. - fighter capabilities, there is involved the American policy of deterrent power. If the United States continues to keep ahead of Russia in bomber quality and maintains supremacy in atomic weapons, Russia will continue to be discouraged from starting war. But if Russia takes the lead with faster and better bombers, which can elude U.S. interception, the deterrent factor is diminished or eliminated.

The B58 probably will be a medium bomber. Equipped for mid-air refueling, its range could be the same as that of a long distance, heavy bomber.

Announces Openings For Civil Service

The Civil Service Commission has announced openings in the following positions: museum aid, trainee Internal Revenue agent, general mechanic's helper, construction supervisor, painter, airway operations specialist in communications, airport, air route and combined facilities and electronic technician.

It is also accepting applications to establish eligible lists for the positions of architect and medical officer.

Further information may be obtained from the local secretary, W. E. Botts, at the Sedalia post office.

Sound and Fury At 'A-Bomb' Games

There is more noise than destruction as an "A-bomb" blast goes off during the "Exercise Flashburn" atomic war games at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. A circular cloud resembling sky-writing, (above) forms over the spectators on the reviewing stand. The ominous-looking cloud, (at right) was formed by the aerial explosion of a simulated atomic bomb dropped from an altitude of 3,500 feet by an Air Force plane. The operation was held to teach the military what methods to use in the event of a future war involving use of nuclear weapons.

'Don't Inhale' Until Doctors Know of Cancer-Smoking Ties

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (P)—A new wrinkle in the cigarette smoking-lung cancer controversy has been suggested by a Boston doctor: stop inhaling until the question is settled.

Meanwhile, it's okay to smoke if you don't inhale, says Dr. Richard Overholt, one of the country's leading chest surgeons.

Overholt, who says "there's no question" in his own mind that there is an "association" between heavy smoking—with accompanying inhalation—and some cases of lung cancer, told reporters at the 39th anniversary meeting of the National Tuberculosis Assn. last night.

"The public ought to be warned that there is a possibility of such an association, and we ought to urge them to stop inhaling smoke until the issue is settled."

"If present investigations show there is no link, then all right. But if it is shown that there is a link, then the tobacco companies ought to eliminate the responsible material or materials from the tobacco."

The doctor also urged that physicians take the lead in giving up inhaling, a suggestion perhaps inspired by something that happened earlier in the day when Overholt was presiding at a panel discussion on lung cancer.

The majority view of the six-member panel was that there might be an association between heavy smoking and lung cancer, although only two, including Overholt, voiced strongly positive views.

But when Overholt later asked the audience of 200 doctors how many, out of the approximately one third who indicated they were smokers, would give up smoking, not a single hand was raised.

Amid laughter, Overholt said with a smile:

"Then this panel has been a total waste of time."

Vic Damone Got No Social Privileges During Army Stay

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, P.—Lately the papers have been full of reports about famous Army privates with special privileges. Here's one who claims he got none—singer Vic Damone.

Congressional probes have been looking into charges of out-of-the-ordinary treatment for sports stars, hotel heirs, etc., who have been drafted. There have been rumors that some show business figures also have been favored in the Army.

"Not me," says Damone. "I received no special privileges. I went through four months of basic training, just like anyone else. I spent a year in Germany. Then I came back and stayed eight months at San Antonio. I was doing recruiting work part of that time."

"During my first five months in Germany, I did not sing at all. I worked in the costume shop at Nuernberg, which was the central point for all the shows in Europe. It seemed wrong to me that I wouldn't be used as a singer. I had been earning $3,000 a week as an entertainer before I went into the Army. The USO shows which were being given cost the taxpayers money. They could have had me for a bargain—$80 a month. "Once I was invited to attend a meeting with some officers who were trying to plan entertainment. It was proposed that entertainment specialists—girls who had some background in show business—would write, direct and produce some camp shows."

"I told them that was all wrong. I know what it is to put on a show, and one person can't do it. I suggested putting on shows like 'This Is the Army' with material that had been proven. They didn't go for my ideas at all. I went back to the costume shop and never heard any more about it."

Vic said he might have served out his overseas time there except for a ruckus over a foreign car. "I had saved up some money and I wanted to buy a Jaguar," he related. "Another private on the post had a Jaguar and a corporal had a Porsche. I talked to the fellows in my barracks about it, and they thought it was a great idea. They were all for it."

"But a major heard about my plan and called me on the carpet. He said it wouldn't be a good idea, that the other fellows would resent it. I said that my buddies were all for it. He argued some more and I said, 'You mean the officers would resent it.' I told him I had the right to do whatever I wanted when I was off duty."

A week later, I was transferred to the 7th Army headquarters."

Damone said he found more understanding there and started talent shows along the lines of the Arthur Godfrey TV program. He added that when he left Europe there were three such units entertaining the troops.

Damone's career is getting back into high gear after the two-year lapse. He is doing his first film since his Army absence, "Athena," with Jane Powell, Debbie Reynolds and Edmund Purdom.

Lung Cancer Victim Becomes US Citizen In Hospital Bed

PARAMUS, N. J. (P)—Thorwald W. Petersen, 66, seriously ill with lung cancer, had his fondest wish fulfilled yesterday.

He became a citizen of the United States, lying in his hospital bed at Bergen Pines. Bergen County Judge Lawrence A. Cavinato came to the bedside to administer the oath. Looking on were his clerk and Raymond Hoffeller, director of the Newark immigration service.

Petersen, an ex-seaman from Denmark, murmured, "Thank you, thank you," when he was pronounced a citizen, but later added, "I wish I could get better."

The Romans called Scotland "Caledonia."

House Group Nears Price Support Action

WASHINGTON (P) — The House Agriculture Committee was nearing a showdown today on the controversial issue of future farm price support legislation.

As the committee settled down for a long bill-drafting effort behind closed doors, Chairman Hope (R-Kan.) said a decision must be made quickly on the broad question of rigid vs. flexible price supports.

"We've got to decide this question of price supports first," he said. "After that, everything should fall into place."

"Once we settle the question of the kind of supports we want, and what to do about surplus disposal, there won't be too much trouble writing a bill."

The committee has fixed a target date of June 1 for completing a bill.

The present farm law, which expires at the end of this year, provides government support of six basic crops at 90 per cent of parity.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson have urged that this be replaced by a system of flexible supports ranging from 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

They argue that higher supports would encourage production in times of scarcity and lower supports would discourage production in times of surplus. Opponents contend that the shift, even if cushioned as the administration recommended, would result in a drop in farm income and possibly lead to a general depression.

Rep. Belcher (R-Okla.), a House committee member, predicted a compromise.

"I don't think it will be possible to get a bill at either extreme," he said in a separate interview. "But what that compromise will be, I don't know."

One proposal advanced would continue rigid supports at 90 per cent of parity through 1956, and thereafter reduce the support level by 3 per cent a year until a 75 per cent level is reached.

Belcher said that as between rigid and flexible supports, "in my opinion there won't be much difference in parity levels between either system for two or three years after a law is enacted."

"If we give the government time to get rid of the surpluses hanging over the market, it is probable that market price will be equal to or above 90 per cent of parity, anyway," he said.

Hope said settlement of the surplus disposal question was no less important than deciding about price supports.

The administration plan contemplates getting rid of a billion dollars worth of surpluses in the next three years through gifts abroad and other means. This would have the effect of keeping support prices up, since the size of surpluses would determine the support level under the administration's flexible plan.

Life Termer Flirts With Prison's Only Woman, Nets Trouble

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (P) — Francis Silva, 23-year-old life termer, is in trouble for trying to flirt with Barbara Graham, 31-year-old condemned murderer and the only woman prisoner in San Quentin Penitentiary.

The prison disciplinary committee says it found Silva guilty of unauthorized communication, for "wolf whistles" and loud whispers directed at Mrs. Graham. His privileges were suspended for 30 days.

The one-sided flirtation was conducted across the courtyard separating the prison psychiatric ward, where Silva is held, and the cell where Mrs. Graham is awaiting death.

Would Give Loan Responsibility To The Banks

WASHINGTON (P) — Chairman Capehart (R-Ind.) said today the Senate Banking Committee would vote to give banks and other private lenders responsibility for FHA-insured home repair loans.

This, said Capehart, would be one way to seal up loopholes in the present law, loopholes that unscrupulous salesmen and contractors allegedly have used to cheat many unsuspecting home owners.

The committee resumes closed-door deliberations today on President Eisenhower's housing program and on proposals to strengthen the present law against any more housing abuses such as those uncovered last month just before a shakeup in the top echelon of the Federal Housing Administration.

Referring to the home repair situation, Capehart said:

"We will continue this program but not without giving lending institutions full responsibility for seeing that their loans are used for legitimate home repairs."

At present, private lenders are assured of full government repayment without any obligation to try to collect on defaulted loans.

Capehart told newsmen he expects the committee to adopt a new provision which would make banks and other private lenders shoulder part of the risk of making home repair loans.

NY, Chicago Remain As Possible Sites

CHICAGO (P) — Selection of the new headquarters of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. appeared today to have narrowed to New York and Chicago. At least nine other cities had sought the headquarters of the group, the nation's largest religious organization.

The Rev. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, chairman of the council's Headquarters Committee, told the General Board yesterday the committee's recommendations will be made at a meeting July 19 in Cleveland.

Cities which had sought the headquarters included Cleveland, Cincinnati and Columbus, Ohio; Kansas City and St. Louis, Mo.; Milwaukee; Indianapolis; Pittsburgh; and Wyckoff, N. J.

Congress Highlights . . .

WASHINGTON (P) — Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) of the Senate subcommittee investigating the Army-McCarthy row plans a meeting with Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell which may clear up some of the question, shrouding the future of the probe.

The subcommittee's public hearings are recessed until Monday. Mundt is under instructions to seek through Brownell some modification of an order by President Eisenhower banning Pentagon witnesses from testifying about executive branch discussions of the dispute.

Some Republican senators urge that Brownell make a statement giving the subcommittee at least a partial account of a Jan. 21 conference of administration officials which has become an issue in the row.

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) has suggested charges against him and his aides were "concocted and instigated" at the conference. He says he must know about the meeting if he is to press his counter charges against Army officials.

HOUSING — The Senate Banking Committee continues writing a bill to carry out the President's housing proposals. Chairman Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.) says the committee will vote to give banks and other private lenders "full responsibility" for policing federal-

Woman Is Arrested For Wearing Coat-- And Nothing Else

OKLAHOMA CITY (P) — A young woman, barefoot and wearing a heavy coat in 79-degree weather, aroused the suspicion of Patrolman W. P. Farris in downtown Oklahoma City yesterday.

"I walked behind for some distance," he said, "and when I got close I grabbed her by the coat." The policeman blushed and hurriedly let go. "She had nothing underneath," he said.

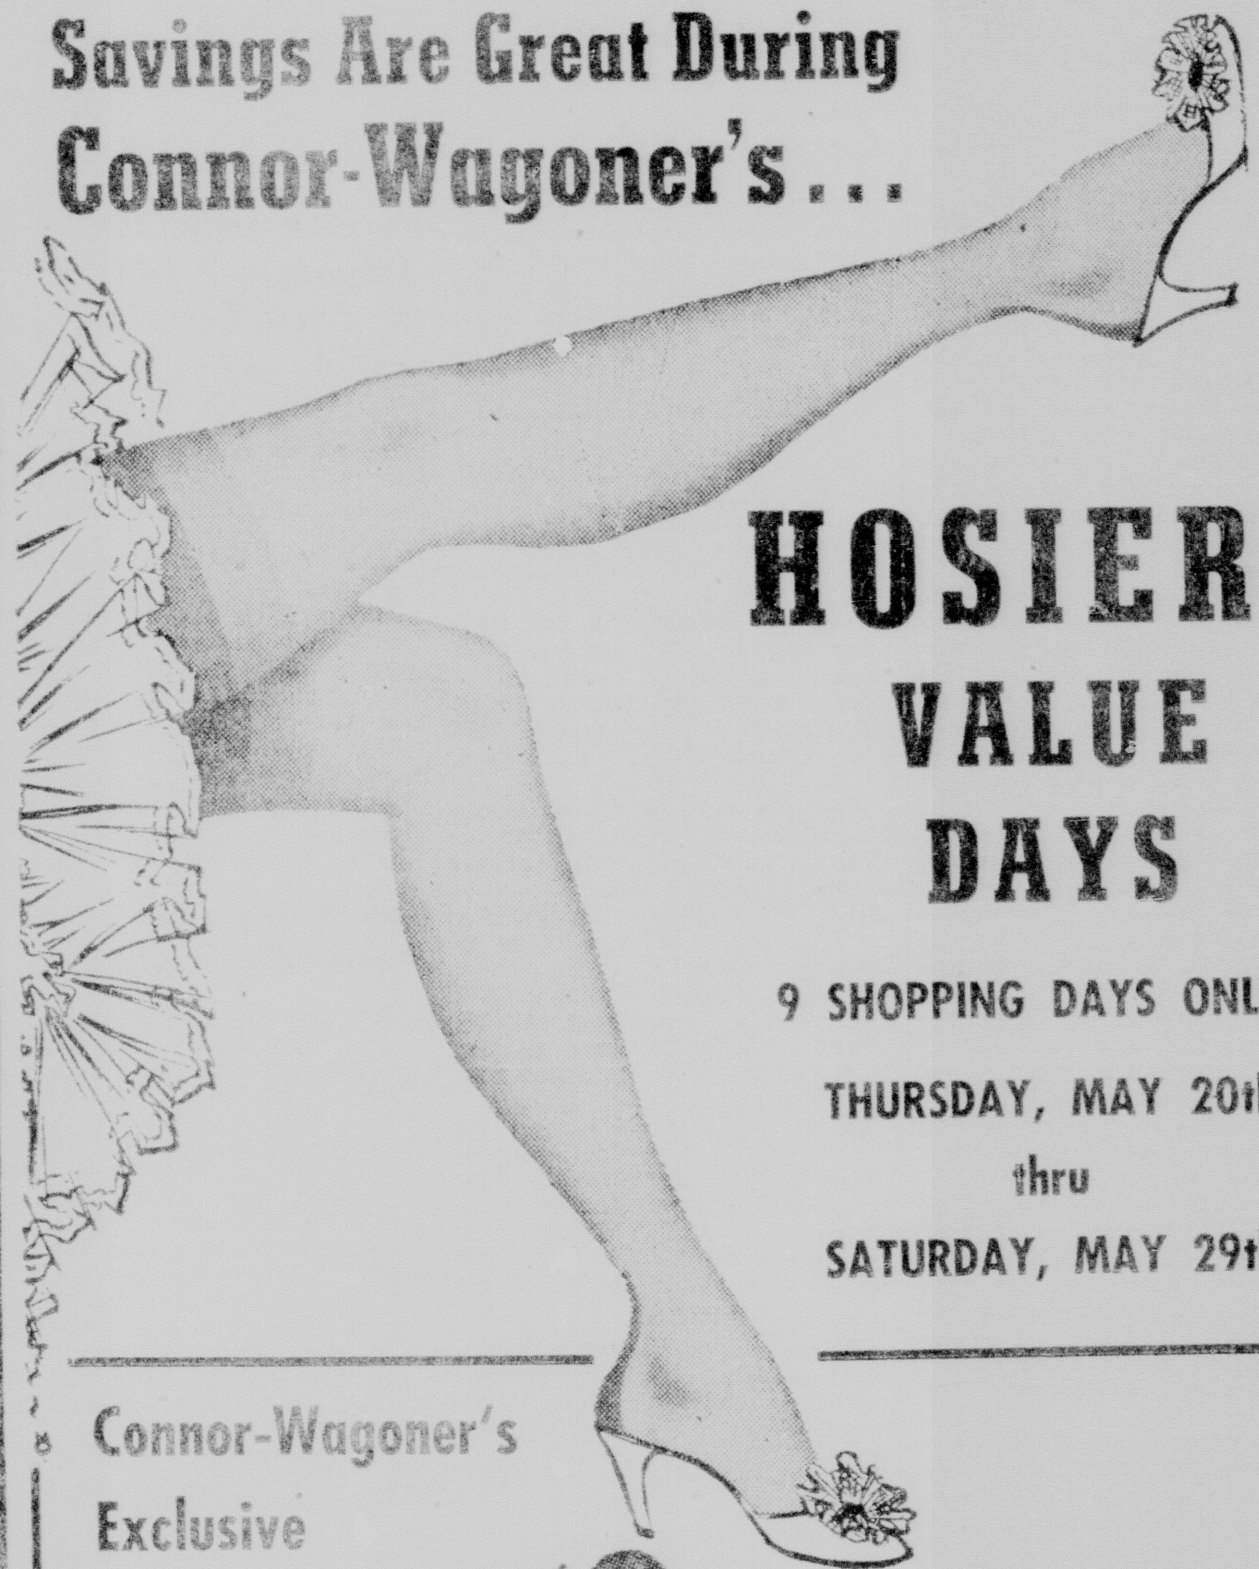

The woman was booked for indecent exposure and drunkenness.

Marjorie Eckhoff, Hurley Hough Married Recently

Miss Marjorie Eckhoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christy Eckhoff, Knob Noster, and AM-3 Hurley Hough, US Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hough, Holden, were united in marriage May 2 at the Baptist Church in Warrensburg. The Rev. Herbert Woodruff, pastor of the Christian Church, performed the double ring ceremony before a setting of white and yellow gladioli, greenery and candles.

Mrs. C. M. Muchmore, organist, played the traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Lloyd McMillan, Centerville, great uncle of the bride, who sang, "I Love You Truly," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of nylon Chantilly lace, fashioned along princess lines and worn over hoops. The long sleeved bodice was finished with a sweetheart neckline and bands of nylon tulle edged the skirt. The heart-shaped neckline was of fine lace, trimmed with pearls and lace flowers on the brim, securing the finger tip veil of nylon net illusion. Her only ornament was a pearl necklace, a gift of the groom. She carried a white Bible with an arrangement of lilies-of-the-valley with a white orchid and ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Ted Jones, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Miss Mary Alice Eckhoff and Miss Mae Belle Roberts were the bridesmaids. Their gowns were ballerina length of blue net over satin, worn with matching bouquets of yellow carnations.

Mr. Norman Briscoe, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was the best man. Mr. Doyle Hough, served as groomsmen. The ushers were: Mr. Lloyd Eckhoff, Mr. Dennis Hough, Mr. Ted Jones and Mr. Doyle Hough.

Sharon Tebbenkamp was the flower girl and wore a frock of pink nylon organza over hoops with a head piece of pink net.

Ronald Tebbenkamp, was the ring bearer and carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Eckhoff chose a navy blue costume with pink accessories.

The bridegroom's mother was attired in a navy blue crepe ensemble with accessories of white. A reception in the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.

The three tier wedding cake centered the seating table which was covered with a white linen cloth. The cake was baked and decorated by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Dee Tebbenkamp. It was on a mirror wreathed with greens and sweet peas and was topped by a miniature bride and groom.

Miss Lula Mae Tebbenkamp was in charge of the guest book and Miss Irene Wrinkle, Independence, presided at the gift table.

Mr. and Mrs. Hough left late in the afternoon for a wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore a three piece ensemble of aqua with navy accessories. Her corsage was an orchid from her wedding bouquet.

The bride, a former secretary in the Johnson County Extension Office in Warrensburg, has recently been employed in the Ford Motor Company in Kansas City and before that at the Lake City Arsenal.

Mr. Hough was graduated from Holden High School in 1944 and enlisted in the US Navy in October, 1951. At this time he is at Moffett Field, near San Francisco.

Mrs. DeWane Shumaker, the former Miss Janice Potter, Pueblo, Colo., was honored with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. R. L. Logan, Thursday evening, May 13.

The home was attractively decorated with blue and white crepe paper streamers to which wedding bells were attached.

Games were played and awards were won by Mrs. Lucy McDaniel, Mrs. C. H. Wheeler and Mrs. Ad Scott.

Refreshments were served to approximately 40 guests.

Mrs. Shumaker received many nice gifts.

Bowling Green Club Learns Outdoor Cookery

Mrs. L. V. Igo, food chairman of the Bowling Green Extension Club, gave a very interesting talk and demonstration on "Outdoor Cookery" at the meeting held on May 13 at the home of Mrs. W. M. Wilkie, with Mrs. Leslie Miller assisting.

During the business meeting, at which Mrs. L. V. Gardner presided, a discussion was held of several institutions to which the club will make donations in the near future.

Roll call was answered with, "The Best Mother's Day Sermon I Ever Heard," by 13 members.

The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Elwood Payne.

Sedalia Opti-Mrs. With Mrs. Trotter

The Sedalia Opti-Mrs. Club met May 10 at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Jerry Trotter, 720 South Beacon.

Reports from all of the committees were heard and plans for a picnic for the Optimists and their wives, to be held June 22, were made.

After the meeting, each member made costume jewelry.

Mrs. Ray Dirck was a special guest of the club.

Carter Woodson School Graduation

Graduation exercises were held Thursday night for the class of the Carter Woodson School at the Colored Methodist Church in Knob Noster.

Those graduating were Joyce Lene Bratton and Delmar Dean Bass.

Oak Point 4-H Club Discusses 4-H Sunday

The Oak Point 4-H Club held its May meeting at the home of H. W. Tegmeyer. A discussion of 4-H Sunday was held by the 15 members present, and they also discussed the first swimming lessons that will begin in June.

The next meeting will be at the home of Otto Tegmeyer, June 6.

Mark Twain PTA Installs Officers, Has Dads' Night

The Mark Twain PTA met Friday, May 14, and held installation of officers and observed Dads' Night.

Mrs. M. E. Green, installing officer, installed the following: president, Mrs. Dolph Chatman; first vice-president, Mrs. John Heiss; second vice-president, Mrs. Harry Nagel; third vice-president, Mrs. Leonard Anderson; secretary, Mrs. Ray Rodick; treasurer, Mrs. Frank Lueck; and historian, Mrs. Walter Schmidt.

"If Men Played Cards Like Women Do," a play was presented as part of the Dads' Night program. Kenny Anderson, Delph, Ernest Cummings, Henry Sutton and Bill Ward were the cast of characters.

Bill Ward was in charge of the program. Three musical numbers were given by Al Domingue and John Vandekamp, accompanied by Miss Lillian Fox.

Mrs. Emmett Steele, devotional chairman, gave the devotional. After the business meeting, refreshments were served.

The attendance awards were won by Mrs. Opal Boesch, downstairs, and Mrs. Irene Kappelman, upstairs.

Garden Club No. 9 Has Dessert Luncheon

Garden Club No. 9 met Friday afternoon, May 14, at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Maurice Grifflin, 1724 South Barrett, with Mrs. R. G. Gray and Mrs. Robert Holt, assisting hostesses. A dessert luncheon was served to the members and the following guests: Mrs. Lon Leslie, Mrs. Larry Blattnerman and Mrs. James Eaton, Yakima, Wash.

Mrs. J. W. Maunders, president, was in charge of the business meeting.

Mrs. Charles Patterson was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Chester Brown spoke on "Propagation," and Mrs. C. J. Chapman spoke on "Bees, and What They Mean to Your Garden."

She had with her a glass-enclosed plant, loaned to her by Ed Christensen, a Sedalia bee man.

Awards for arrangements went to Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Griffin and Mrs. Jack Cunningham.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Chester Eding, 921 South Lamine.

Miss O'Brian Gives Thursday Club Program

Miss Opal O'Brian, county home agent, was the guest speaker of the Thursday Club May 13 at the home of Mrs. Raymond Wasson. Miss O'Brian told the club members how to make the best use of lighting in the home by demonstrating the proper use of lamps and bulbs.

During the business meeting, the club voted to give 35 cents per member to the Mercy Hospital for needed equipment.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. George Crells, June 10.

The Sally Gray Circle Honors Golden Ages

The Sally Gray Circle of the Windsor Methodist Church met Friday afternoon, May 14, in the dining room of the church.

After a devotional by Miss Ida Shaw and a short business meeting, the following members of the Golden Age Group of the circle were honored: Mrs. Clara Powell, Mrs. Chester Davis, Mrs. J. R. Mathews, Miss Ida Shaw, Mrs. W. E. Huston and Mrs. W. D. Hughes. As the guests were seated at the beautifully decorated tables they were presented with corsages of red roses. Each told of interesting experiences beginning with the Ladies Aid and different Missionary Societies through the years to the present Woman's Society of Christian Service.

The hostesses, Mrs. S. R. Johnson and Mrs. B. F. Harris, served refreshments to 27 members and guests.

TIPTON HONOR GRADS—Jim Hofstetter (left), son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hofstetter, Tipton, is valedictorian, and Miss Mary Ann Ayres (right), daughter of Mrs. Melvin Ball and Mr. Ball, Fortuna, is salutatorian of the senior graduating class of Tipton High School, which closed Tuesday, May 18. The next eight highest ranking students of the class are: Harry Brondel, Merlyn Grubb, Gladys Jacobs, Louise Phillips, Joy Allee, Wilene Hutchison, Marilyn Schmidt, Norma Lee Kramer.

Saint Andrews School, Tipton, Has Graduation

TIPTON — Seventeen students of St. Andrews' School will receive their diplomas from the Rev. H. J. Brett in services to be conducted at St. Andrew's Church on May 23.

The graduates will participate in the children's high mass for world peace at 8:30 a.m. Graduation services will take place at 2:30 p.m. A procession honoring the Blessed Mother will form at the school and hymns will be sung as the group winds its way to the church.

Assisted by Ruth Ann Schuster and Ruth Marie Embry, will place a crown of roses on the statue of the Blessed Mother after the May Devotions. Reception of the boys into the Holy Name Society and of the girls into the Blessed Virgin Sodality, renewal of baptismal vows, distribution of diplomas and benediction with the Most Blessed Sacrament will be the order of services.

The graduates who will receive their diplomas are the following: Paul Cornell, Ruth Marie Embry, Gregory Faherty, Jo Ann Frankon, Norma Hainen, Gerald Hartman, Joyce Knipp, Dean Knipp, LeRoy Knipp, Carolyn Kutenhuler, Terry Riekenes, Mary Louise Scheck, Carol Jean Schuster, Ruth Ann Schuster, Theresa Schmidt, Gervase Wolf and Donald Yeost.

County Council Of PTA Names New Committees

The Pettis County Council of Parent Teachers Association held a plan meeting at the Sedalia Public Library May 12, at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Fred Staley Jr., president, presided. Mrs. Martin Schupp was elected vice-president.

Mrs. Staley appointed the following committee chairmen: program, Mrs. Martin Schupp; publicity, Mrs. Hall Walker; budget and finance, Mrs. G. L. Morris; hospitality, each unit to act as hostess during the year; song and game, Mrs. Rex Paul; pianist, Mrs. Earl Gregory; congress publications, Mrs. Helen Richards; standard of excellence, Mrs. Sparks; historian, Mrs. Wallace; legislation, C. F. Scotten; and magazine, Mrs. Oral Lehmer.

It was decided to use the word, "democracy," as the theme for the coming year.

A school of instruction will be held May 25. There will be a display table and each unit should bring its scrap book and other programs, place cards and other interesting material used during the year.

Hal Boyle's Column—

Wives Blame Husbands When Insomnia Overtakes Them

NEW YORK (AP)—Late last night I've been running into a lot of sleepless wives.

Can't figure out the reason, but naturally this sleeplessness must be caused by husbands.

When a man gets insomnia, he generally shoulders the full responsibility for it himself. He figures he drank too much coffee, ate the wrong combination of foods, or else took his business or personal worries to bed with him.

A wife approaches the problem from the opposite direction. "I can't sleep," she muses. "Why? What has my husband been up to now?"

Her only task then is to find something her husband has done wrong. As this isn't very difficult for the average wife, she pins down his latest error, bawls him out roundly, and then is able again to sleep the sleep of the just.

Sometimes a husband discovers his wife's insomnia has been caused not by something he did—but something he didn't do.

"Why didn't you stop me from eating that rich dessert last night?" she tells him. "You knew it wouldn't agree with me. But there you sat like a complete dolt, and let me go right on eating it. Sometimes I don't know what I'm going to do with you. I never sleep a wink."

Every husband over the years gets thoroughly familiar with that wifely phrase—"I never slept a wink." For some reason known only to women, however, you never hear a wife admit, "Well, I slept a wink last night."

There are several common types of insomnia among wives, and perhaps you have one of the following in your own home.

1. The empty stomach insomnia—This plump lady wakes up every hour on the hour, then raids the refrigerator, sleeps like a baby for another hour. Her real problem is that she hates to waste time sleeping when she could be eating. The best way to solve the situation is to move the refrigerator to her bedside, or else set her up a cot in the kitchen.

2. The choker—She wraps her arms around her husband's neck, slowly throttling him. The last words he hears just before he blacks out unconscious are her moans, "Why can't I sleep?" If you check this wife's family tree, you will probably find that her great-great-grandmother was a boa constrictor.

3. The false insomnia—This wife snores like a don of roaring lions from midnight until 8 a.m., then looks accusingly over at her red-eyed, sleepless husband and says, "You simply have got to do something about your snoring. It kept me awake all night."

4. The traveling insomnia—She wraps herself in a sheet and two blankets and prowls the house in search of sleep. She dozes in every bed and chair and winds up on the living room rug. But as soon as her husband goes to work, she lies down on a couch and sleeps like an angel all day.

5. The intermittent dreamer—"I just dreamed I was walking barefoot in my nightgown through a meadow full of $1,000 bills," she says, shaking her husband awake. "What does that mean?"

She shields herself to stay awake, just hoping her husband will talk in his sleep and reveal the name of the blonde she is sure he is keeping in the sly.

7. The share-and-share alike insomnia—"Don't you dare go to sleep before I do," she sternly warns her husband. "Marriage is a 50-50 business. If I can't sleep, why should you?"

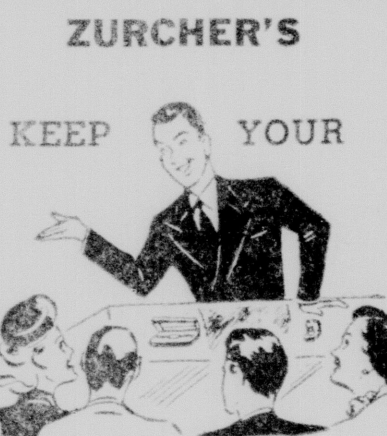

What can a man do to cure his wife's insomnia. Of course, he should smother her with sympathy and understanding. But the best thing he can do is earn more money for her. Nothing relaxes a woman better—or puts her in more of a restful mood—than spending a lot of money.

The worst thing a husband can do is to tell his wife, "Why don't you do a little more work? The reason you can't sleep is you are overtired from doing nothing so hard all day long."

That is a sure way for him to get insomnia himself.

Guatemala's Delegate Quits Harmony Meet

WASHINGTON — Guatemala's chief diplomat here stated out of an inter-American "harmony" meeting last night as Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) spoke of the "ominous arrival" in Guatemala of "a tremendous shipment of arms" from Communist Poland.

Wiley, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was chief speaker at a dinner in honor of Latin-American diplomats and he used the occasion to discuss a State Department announcement that a Swedish ship was unloading at a Guatemalan port arms which it reportedly had taken on at Stettin in Poland.

The senator did not name Guatemala, but it was clear he was talking about that Central American nation, which he has described before as "a Communist beachhead in the Americas."

Everybody, said Wiley, is "keenly aware of the grim implications" of the news about the arms shipment, which he said may be "a part of the master plan of world communism."

At that point in the speech, Dr. Alfredo Chocano, acting head of the Guatemalan Embassy, rose, walked to where Sen. Wiley was seated and said he was "in complete agreement with the speaker's remarks."

Then he strode through a back-drop and out of the banquet room. Outside, the Guatemalan told newsmen: "I don't know anything about that arms shipment."

He said he interpreted Wiley's remarks as an "allusion to Guatemala" and that he walked out "because I am not in agreement with what he said."

Wiley had been seated beside Dr. Chocano during dinner and told newsmen later he and the Guatemalan diplomat discussed the arms shipment, "but only very briefly."

"Dr. Chocano told me that it was only about 400 tons of arms and that they were all for the army," Wiley said. "There was nothing personal, of course, in my remarks."

In his speech, Wiley called for "hemispheric consultation" on what he termed the "alarming" development in turbulent Central America.

Such consultation could be a preliminary to joint action by the 21 American republics under the Rio Mutual Defense Treaty. A majority of those republics would have to approve before military, economic or diplomatic sanctions could be invoked to quell a threat to the peace.

Until now, the other republics have indicated no such alarm as this country has displayed toward a rising influence of communism in Guatemala.

Sweet Springs Boy Killed By Tractor

SWEET SPRINGS — Robert Oerding, 13, of Sweet Springs was killed Tuesday when a tractor he was driving overturned near the edge of U.S. highway No. 40 about one mile west of here.

Oerding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Oerding, Sweet Springs, apparently died instantly when the vehicle overturned after plunging down a dirt embankment by the highway.

The accident was on the farm of the victim's uncle, Raymond E. Oerding.

Robert Lee Oerding was born Feb. 22, 1941, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Oerding. He is survived besides his parents by a brother, Delbert Oerding, Kansas City.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Lucy Louella Sharper

Funeral services for Mrs. Lucy Louella Sharper, 85, of Smithton, were held Monday at 2 p.m. at the Garden City Methodist Church, where she was a lifelong member.

The Rev. Nelson Morgan, pastor, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Walter Davenport, retired Baptist minister.

Martha Cummings and Robert McCullough sang "Going Down the Valley" and "No Night There," accompanied by Lavona Stonestreet.

Six grandsons were pallbearers: Don Early, Allen Graves, Harry Leslie, Herbert Leslie, Elwood Remington and Frank Medaglia. Burial was in the Garden City Cemetery.

Mrs. Sharper, a native of Garden City, died at the Independence Sanitarium May 15 a few hours after she fell down the steps at her daughter's home in Independence.

She had made her home with her son, Bennie M. Sharper, Smithton, for sometime.

Surviving, besides the son named, are two daughters, Mrs. Janice Mae Wilson, Harrisonville, and Mrs. Blanche Leslie, Independence; one other son, Walter H. Kansas City; a brother, George Bullock, Garden City; six grandchildren and ten great grandchildren.

David Keith Messer Funeral

Funeral services for David Keith Messer, 24, Houstonia, who was killed Monday in a ditch cave-in six miles south of Centerville, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at the Houstonia Methodist church.

Rev. W. J. Cox, pastor, will officiate.

Pallbearers will be Clifford Marvin and Hubert Dalton, Ray and Carl Hughes, and Walter Pummil.

Honorary pallbearers will be Capt. Sam Tuck, Shelton Rissler, Leonard Ford, Marshall Dickerson, Parker Charles and William Shields, all members of the Janisch-Parkhurst Post No. 539, American Legion.

Music for the service is in charge of Mrs. Leland Tuck. Singers will be Patty Lou Wisner, Yvonne Bratton, Lena Mae Howard, Barbara Reid, and Leah Rae Collier.

Burial will be in the Houstonia cemetery.

Earl L. Wright

Mrs. Nell Haynes, Versailles, received word at 6 p.m. Monday of the sudden death of her brother, Earl L. Wright, 61, Kansas City. Mr. Wright died about 6 p.m. May 17.

He was born at California, Mo., and had spent the past 30 years in Kansas City and was a baggage-man for the Union Pacific Railroad for 28 years.

Mr. Wright was very well known in Versailles as for years he had spent the weekends with his son, Leo Wright, and sister, Mrs. Haynes.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ruby Wright, of the home; three sons, Truman Wright, Kansas City, Kan.; Earl L. Wright Jr., Kansas City, Kan.; Leo Wright, Versailles; one daughter, Mrs. Madelyn Ferguson, Kansas City; one stepdaughter, Mrs. Beverly Irwin, San Francisco, Calif.; one brother, L. D. Wright, Guam, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held in Kansas City Wednesday.

Burial was in the IOOF Cemetery at Ottaville.

Army Convoys To Tie Traffic For Five Days

Two huge army convoys, passing through Sedalia Tuesday afternoon, tied up traffic across and on Broadway for more than 15 minutes each time. And they were only the beginning of daily tie-ups to continue for five days.

One hundred and fifty-five trucks, jeeps and other vehicles were in each of the two convoys Tuesday. Today 350 vehicles were to be in two more convoys, expected at about the same time as yesterday's—between 3 and 4 p.m.

Thursday and Friday, each 340 trucksloads are expected with 380 more on Friday, each time being divided into two groups, and each time passing through Sedalia about the same hour.

The soldiers are going to Ft. Riley, Kan., after military maneuvers in Kentucky. Many of the soldiers are being transferred from Ft. Bragg, N. C.

Sedalia Lions Hear CP Talks

The Sedalia Lions Club, at its regular meeting Wednesday, heard Mrs. Gregory, field representative of the United Cerebral Palsy for West Central Missouri, and Harold Edwards, state CP executive, speak on the program for Missouri on cerebral palsy.

A motion picture, "Up Stream," on education and treatment of afflicted children, was also shown. The picture is on a program sponsored in Seattle, Wash., by the Kiwanis Clubs.

Guests at the meeting were Arthur Schwarz, Sedalia, and J. R. De Rigne, Kansas City, Kan., of Burl Sammons.

The annual spring picnic will be held on Wednesday, May 26, at the Catholic Community Center at which all members, and their friends, are invited. There will be baby sitters on hand to take care of the children who are taken on the party.

The meeting was presided over by D. Kelly Scruton, president.

Wounded Are Expected To Arrive at Hanoi From Dien Bien Phu

PARIS — A French Press Agency dispatch from Hanoi reported that 60 to 80 RECH Union wounded from Dien Bien Phu are expected to arrive sometime today in that north Indochina capital.

The dispatch gave no further details and it was not immediately known here how so large a number was being transported from the fallen fortress.

So far, the French have been able to use only helicopters and other small planes for the evacuation because heavier planes cannot land on the destroyed Dien Bien Phu airstrip.

Eighteen wounded were flown from Dien Bien Phu to Luang Prabang, the royal Laotian capital, yesterday. Eleven were brought out last week before the French suspended the evacuation temporarily over the weekend, charging the rebels were refusing to repair the airstrip so it could handle larger planes.

Irish Begin Counting Parliament Returns

DUBLIN, Ireland — Officials began counting the votes today from Ireland's parliamentary election. Final results were expected late tomorrow night or sometime Friday.

Observers guessed that about 1,200,000 voted in the poll yesterday to determine whether an Irish Prime Minister Eamon de Valera will continue to lead the country.

His Fianna Fail party was opposed by a four-party opposition headed by former Prime Minister John A. Costello.

Priest Catches Thief Robbing Poor Box

LONG BEACH, Calif. — The Rev. Thomas Foley of St. Barnabas Catholic Church stepped into the vestibule yesterday in time to see a man prying open the poor box with a screw driver.

He rebuked the intruder, took him to the church office and called police.

Officers booked Peter Baradovich, 26, an unemployed transient, on suspicion of robbery.

House Takes First Step To Expand SS

Pilot Grove Honors School Superintendent

Supt. Keith Davis, Mrs. Davis, Larry, Dixie and Bill, were honored on a covered dish supper in the Pilot Grove High School gymnasium on Thursday evening, May 13.

The event was sponsored by the members of the Wesley Chapel Church, the Masonic Order, the Parent-Teacher Association and the Lions Club. It was carried out as the "Davis Special," the departments were the dining car, the special car and several coaches. Paul Willingham acted as conductor. Les Chamberlin as fireman, Emil Block, brakeman and Clarence Lange, agent.

The guest table was centered with a basket of red roses and a basket of garden flowers adorned the service table.

Special guests were the honorees and the Rev. Carl Opp, the Rev. William Harris, Miss Lida Harris, Miss Catherine Benson, Joe Twenter, Raymond Odor, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Willingham and Mr. and Mrs. Les Chamberlin.

A program was presented following the supper and T. J. Mellor, president of the student council, presented Mr. and Mrs. Davis with a gift from their many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis and family will move July 1 to Rich Hill, where he will be superintendent of schools.

Sedalia Honored For No Fatalities To School Children

Donald S. Lamm, Sedalia, attended the annual meeting of the board of governors of the Automobile Club of Missouri, in St. Louis, Tuesday, May 18, which paid highest tribute to Sedalia for being on the 11th annual honor roll of cities for two consecutive years of having no traffic fatalities among school-age children.

Matt F. Morse, who was re-elected president of the Automobile Club at the meeting, said: "It is especially noteworthy that four cities are on the Auto Club honor roll of cities for the eleventh consecutive year, which gives them a perfect record since the Auto Club started making this safety award among cities of 5,000 or more population. The four cities with these fine records are Hannibal, Moberly, Trenton and Washington."

Josephine Smith Wins Hubbard Hi Oratorical Contest Tuesday Night

Josephine Smith won the annual oratorical contest at the Hubbard High School auditorium last night with an oration entitled "Life Lessons." Carolyn Washington was second with "The Curse of Selfishness" and Eugene Sims was third with his oration, entitled "The Life That Counts."

Organizations Cop Victory In Penn. Vote

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — Organizational Republicans and Democrats scored comparatively easy primary victories in Pennsylvania yesterday with only slightly more than 23 per cent of the state's five million eligible voters going to the polls.

It was one of the lightest statewide vote turnouts in Pennsylvania in recent years.

The nominees to succeed Gov. John S. Pine are Republican Lloyd H. Wood, 56, present lieutenant governor and "harmony" choice of the GOP leadership, and Democratic State Sen. George M. Leader, 35, nominee of the party's state policy committee.

Riding to victory with Wood on the GOP slate were candidates for lieutenant governor, secretary of internal affairs and three posts on the State Superior Court. There was no opposition to Democratic party-endorsed candidates for these offices.

Under the Pennsylvania Constitution, governors can not succeed themselves.

Also nominated were candidates for 20 congressional seats, 210 State House of Representatives' chairs and half of the 50-member State Senate. Twenty-eight congressmen were renominated.

Only Republican Louis Graham and Democrat Augustine Kelly were waging close battles early today.

The campaign and balloting sharply contrasted with four years ago when the Republicans engaged in a knock-down, drag-out fight in which Pine and U. S. Sen. James H. Duff won the GOP nominations to their present posts, and in which Pine and U. S. Sen. James H. Duff won the GOP nominations to their present posts, and in which Pine and U. S. Sen. James H. Duff won the GOP nominations to their present posts.

Picked as Wood's running mate yesterday were Atty. Gen. Frank F. Trusoot for lieutenant governor, Mrs. Gaynelle M. Dixon for secretary of internal affairs, and John T. Bell, George M. Griffith and incumbent Robert E. Woodside for Superior Court.

Yesterday some 23 per cent of the registered Democrats picked as Leader's running mate contractor Roy M. Furman for lieutenant governor; Democratic State Secretary Genevieve Blatt for secretary of internal affairs; and incumbents Chester M. Rhodes, F. Clair Ross and Woodside for Superior Court.

Woodside won both parties' judgeship nomination under a state law which permits judicial candidates to cross-file for nomination on both tickets.

The total registration this year was 5,071,000, with Republicans holding a 3-2 edge. There are 2,968,607 registered Republicans and 2,035,695 Democrats.

Republican Rep. Graham, seeking a ninth term in the House, was opposed by State Sen. Joan Carl Miller and Raymond Phillips for the nomination from the tricounty western Pennsylvania district. Graham is second-ranking Republican on the House Judiciary Committee.

Kelley was seeking his eighth term in the House and ran into opposition from Lloyd W. Miller and Mario B. Sidese. Kelley is the No. 2 Democrat on the House Education and Labor Committee.

Renominated without difficulty were Republican Representatives Samuel McConnell, chairman of the House Labor and Education Committee; Richard M. Simpson, chairman of the GOP Congressional Campaign Committee; and Hugh Scott, former national chairman of the Republican party.

Wood, a southeastern Pennsylvania attorney, has moved from the county level successively through the State House of Representatives, Senate and lieutenant governorship. He was picked by a group of party leaders, including Pine and Owlett, in January and had taken opposition in yesterday's balloting.

His Democratic opponent in November is a south central Pennsylvania turkey grower and the son of a former state senator and veteran Democratic political leader. He defeated Allegheny County Coroner William D. McClelland in the primary.

The vote for governor: Republican in 6,243 of 8,589 precincts, Wood, 510,250; Thomas S. Stephenson, 120,803; Gordon F. Chamberlain, 33,831. Democrat in 6,064 of 8,589 precincts, Leader, 201,186; McClelland, 126,166; Charles J. Schmitt, 23,809.

Would Increase Flow of Gas —

Panhandle Eastern Co. Asks Approval of Expansion Plan

WASHINGTON, May 19 (AP) — The Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. today asked the Federal Power Commission to approve a $66,750,000 expansion program.

The company, in a statement, said the expansion would "greatly increase" the flow of gas to its utility and industrial customers in Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio.

The company plans call for a third pipe line along most of its main line, additional laterals from the main line to customers, and a huge underground storage field in west central Illinois.

Upon completion of the program the company said, it would be capable of delivering to customers 1,425,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily on the coldest winter days, or an increase of about 50 per cent over Panhandle's present peak capacity of 970 million cubic feet a day.

The underground storage project would be in a 10,000-acre tract in Morgan County, Ill., west of Waverly, where Panhandle engineers have been making tests since 1947.

Millions of cubic feet of gas would be injected under pressure and stored in a relatively porous sandstone formation 1,800 feet below the surface.

The expansion program also calls for about 300 miles of new pipe, a 40 per cent step-up in power at the system's compressor stations, and the drilling of 80 new natural gas wells in the Anadarko Basin in the Southwest.

A large share of the additional gas from the underground storage field would go to the Central Illinois Light Co. at Peoria, which cooperated in the tests of the geological formation known as the Waverly Dome.

Panhandle said it will cost $5-171,500 to establish the Waverly storage field. About $1,800,000 worth of "cushion gas" would be required to hold back water from subterranean reservoir.

Cushion gas remains constantly in place while "working gas" is pumped in and out of such underground storage areas.

A total of 1,213 candidates for the 203-seat legislature wound up their campaign with more charges and denials of police strong-arm interference.

Rhee has called for election of only his own Liberal party members. His main opposition, which supports his war policy but opposes his domestic program, is the Democratic Nationalist party.

Both Democratic Nationalists and independents have made numerous campaign charges of police intimidation and beatings.

In Pusan, several campaigners for Hoh Jung, an independent candidate and former Cabinet minister under Rhee, said they were beaten. One woman was seriously injured.

Another of Hoh's supporters died of a skull fracture after spending the night in jail on charges of cuff-violation and drunkenness. His family said he had not been drinking.

Other anti-administration candidates complained that police intimidation made it impossible for them to complete or file election petitions.

Teacher Goes to Court To Get Back His Car

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — James E. Trabue, high school teacher here, has gone to court to get back his automobile towed from a school parking lot last week.

Garage owner Irwin Dewein, named as defendant in Trabue's suit filed in Circuit Court yesterday, said someone called his garage last Wednesday identifying himself as the assistant principal and asking the car be removed from school property.

Trabue said Dewein has refused to release the car until towing and storage charges are paid.

School officials believe some student may have made the call as a prank.

Finds Masked Man's Order Isn't a Gag

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The masked man wasn't kidding when he ordered Byron Hendricks, 34, and Miss Marilyn Jansen, 25, to lie on the floor of the Kaliko Kat tavern.

But Hendricks thought it was all a gag and grappled with the man. Imagine his surprise when the man fired a gun and Hendricks was creased over the right ear.

Then the masked man and a companion, each with a silk stocking over his face, finished robbing the tavern till and five customers of $896.

Holds 'No Optimism' For Condition of 23 Japanese Fishermen

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's atomic bomb injuries investigation committee said today "no optimism" can be held for the condition of 23 fishermen burned by an H-bomb blast even though their blood count is improving.

The committee said the men still have poor appetites and suffer from fatigue and their recovery is slow.

The fishermen were showered by radioactive dust following the March 1 U. S. H-bomb test at Bikini.

The Japanese commission's medical chief, Dr. Masao Tsuzuki, told

"We have had no deaths," Dr. Tsuzuki declared. "But we do not know about periods two and three."

Meanwhile, officials at the big port of Misaki estimated that losses from U. S. H-bomb tests have cost the port more than one million dollars.

Germ Ghosts May Provide TB Vaccine

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Ex-tracts from the "ghosts" of germs may eventually provide an improved vaccine to protect against tuberculosis, a scientist of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research said today.

Dr. Frank W. Weiss told the National Tuberculosis Assn. (NTA) that significant protection against tuberculosis had been achieved in mice with a chemical extract derived from human tuberculosis germs which first had been killed by chemical means.

And this work, he told a reporter, "opens up at least an approach towards developing a vaccine for human administration without using either 'live' tuberculosis bugs or even the entire bodies of killed ones. He said a vaccine called BCG, which uses 'live' but nonvirulent germs, is already in fairly wide use, and that in some parts of Europe a vaccine made of 'killed' but intact germs has been used. But he declared that each type has actual or potential drawbacks.

Weiss prepared a report, jointly with Dr. Rene J. Dubos, for the NTA's 50th anniversary meeting. It came not long after Dr. James Perkins, managing director of the NTA, had declared in a keynoting statement that while substantial progress has been made in the treatment of tuberculosis, "we are not preventing tuberculosis anywhere near as successfully as we have been able to postpone death (and actually arrest many cases) once the disease has struck."

Weiss said the Rockefeller work indicated that the separated extract contained at least some of the components by which a germ stimulates immunity against itself when the germ gets into an animal or human body.

But more important, he said, is the fact that the successfully-used extract can be prepared both from germs that are "virulent"—that is, capable of causing infection—and from those that are not virulent. This indicates, he said, that the extract may be free of the component, or components, of a tuberculosis germ which influences the germ's power to infect.

Assessor Asks Pay for Real Estate Tax Book

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Charles G. Smith, Saline County assessor, asked the Missouri Supreme Court today to require the state to pay him for making up the real estate tax book for this year.

It amounts to $378 for Smith. It is also a big dollar question to all the other assessors in the other third and fourth class counties.

Here's the situation: Since 1946 the state and the various third and fourth class counties have been sharing a payment to the assessors amounting to six cents for every entry on the real estate book—a listing of real property assessments in each county.

But last year, after the assessors got their 1953 payments, Asst. Gen. John M. Dalton held that the assessor is not entitled to any compensation for making the entries. That raised a double-barreled question:

Should the assessors get the pay for this year? Or should they have to pay back the money they got the past eight years if the attorney general's holding is affirmed? J. E. Taylor, former attorney general and now Smith's attorney, said he figured the state's share of the annual payments in each of the third and fourth class counties would amount to an average of about $300 plus.

That would be a sizable piece of change to the county assessor if he had to pay it back for an eight-year period.

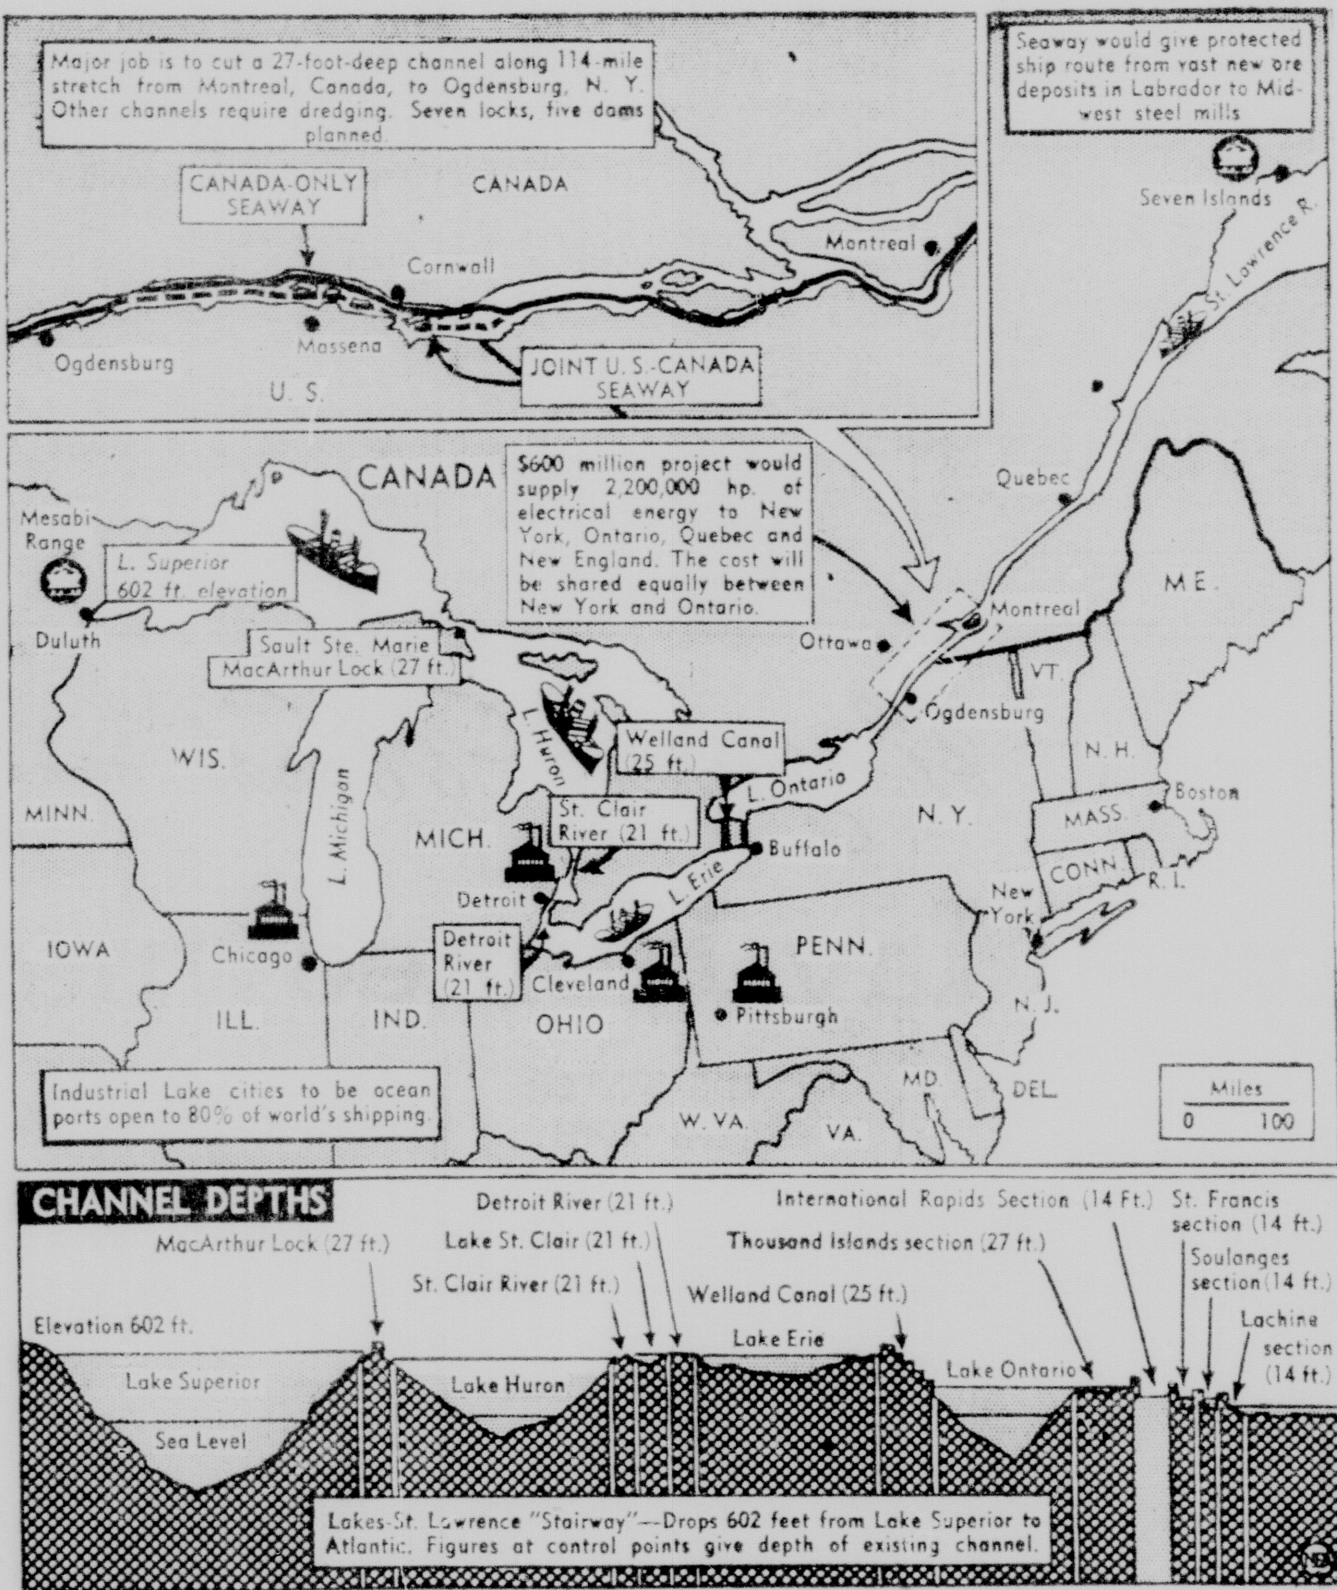

Cocker Spaniel Shoots Master With Air Gun

OMAHA (AP)—Mickey, a cocker spaniel, shot a man, Mickey's owner, Jerry Danahy, 16, and Jerry Douda, 15, were playing with a .17-caliber air-powered pistol with a broken trigger guard when the pup leaped into his master's lap. A paw hit the trigger.

The discharged pellet hit Danahy square on the chin, inflicting a two-inch gash.

CUTTING CORNERS—This iron has a pivoting front point that enables the ironer to swing around corners, and reach parts of the garment which a conventional iron couldn't get to without changing position of clothing on the board. It was shown at an exhibition at Wiesbaden, Germany. The gadget is controlled by a twist of the handle.

GREAT LAKES "GATEWAY" TO THE ATLANTIC—When President Eisenhower signed the St. Lawrence Seaway bill, a 50-year dream ended, and a dream became a reality. After completion the Seaway will link the large port cities on the Great Lakes with the Atlantic Ocean. Major project at present will be to cut a 27-foot-deep channel from Ogdensburg, N. Y., to Montreal, Canada, shown in detail upper left. The next project will be to enlarge and deepen all waterways west of Detroit, so that ocean-going vessels can travel between the Atlantic Ocean and the Mesabi Range in Minnesota. The Seaway is expected to play an important part in the defense plans of both the U. S. and Canada, and is expected to fill the Midwest steel mills' need for new supplies of iron ore from the Quebec-Labrador fields. Varying water levels of the canals and lakes along the waterway are shown in chart at bottom.

Missouri's Official Highway Map for '54 Is More Readable

Missouri's official 1954 State Highway Map, all dressed up with a new, more readable face, now is ready for distribution to highway users. Several new features also have been incorporated on the map, to provide additional pertinent facts and information of use to vehicle operators.

The maps, available free of charge to highway users who want them, may be obtained at the State Highway Commission's main office in Jefferson City, any of the ten district offices in the state, and at various other places. The maps also will be distributed at numerous county fairs and other exhibits during the year, and at the Commission's Highway Gardens exhibit during the State Fair in Sedalia in August.

In an effort to make it even more readable to the user, the entire map and the 38 insets of individual cities have been redrawn. The color scheme, red, blue, yellow and brown, also has been revised some to provide better contrasts.

Road bands designating U. S. marked and some other major state highways, in red, have been made narrower this year. This was necessary because additions to road mileage have made more imperative to permit showing them. Some major roads and all supplementary system routes are shown in blue.

Six different type sizes are used this year to designate cities, towns and villages, and new symbols for designating those indicate the population group to which they belong.

Names of cities, towns and villages are in dark blue. Names of the counties are in brown, with the name placed at the south line of the counties.

Also, this year for the first time the legend carries a scale of miles. This scale shows that one inch on the map equals approximately 13 1/2 miles.

A major new addition to the back this year is a map of the United States showing the principal U. S. marked highways which lead into Missouri. This map also shows the distance of each state capital from Jefferson City.

Two drawings showing the official hand signal for motorists on Missouri highways, and location of the yellow in-passing zones also are included among other items on the map back. Those were on last year's map also, but have been changed for this year to conform to new regulations.

Information on makeup of the State Highway Commission and on location of and personnel at the State Highway Patrol offices has been brought up to date as near as possible.

Features retained from the last year's map include: Picture of Governor Phil M. Donnelly, with a brief message from him to the "Traveler on Missouri Highways"; index to the some 1,200 cities, towns and villages shown on the map, with their population and location; panels on locations and phone numbers of highway information centers, what to do in case of an accident, rules of the road, pictures of most prominent highway signs and markers; and mileage chart showing distances between Missouri cities.

Seventeen pictures, at least one from each of the 10 highway districts in the state, showing historic or scenic points along state highways; a small map locating the 15 recreational areas of the state; a panel telling who to write for various types of information about Missouri; a panel on which notes may be made on a trip into the state; a title page; and a mailing panel.

The map again has been copyrighted this year, thus making it the only truly official Missouri highway map. Last year was the first time the map was copyrighted.

Students Are Given Test of Walking To A-Bomb Survival

ST. LOUIS (AP)—High school students of suburban University City tested their legs today to see if they could walk themselves to survival in event of an A-bomb attack.

The idea of the test sparked from a recent talk of a civil defense director, who said mass evacuation in an atomic raid would depend largely on walking.

Four physical education classes, supervised by Track Coach Henry E. Schenmer, were given a half-hour to walk two miles.

"If you don't make it you are presumed dead," the students were told. "If you barely make it, you are alive but radio-active."

Looking over Missouri with Joe Marsh
No Back Seat For Missouri Highways

Friend of mine from one of our sister states stopped by awhile back. He was heading home after driving over most of the Midwest on a business trip.

Thing he appreciated most about our state was the highways. Said that he'd put them up against most any state.

I guess that's one thing a lot of us kinda take for granted since we do have some good highways in Missouri. Not that all of them are perfect, but most of them make for comfortable, safe driving.

From where I sit, there are a lot of things we may take for granted if we aren't careful. Good highways are just one. You could add many others, such as good police protection and good fire departments. We miss them if we don't have them and need them, but never give them a thought until we do.

Some of us take for granted that everyone enjoys relaxing with a mellow glass of beer. Some people prefer other beverages instead. They are entitled to their choice just as much as we are.

Casino Uses TV Set To Catch Cheaters At Its Gaming Tables

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—This gambling city is preparing to catch cheaters by electronics.

One plush casino, The Sands, inaugurated last night an elaborate television circuit by which Jack Freedman, president of the hotel corporation, can watch all 10 gaming tables at once from his office on the floor above.

The closed circuit consists of 10 cameras which show, on the screen of Freedman's receiver, only the hands of the players and dealers at the 10 tables. Any untoward activity can be reported by Freedman to pit bosses or other floor officials.

The cameras, a hotel spokesman said, do not identify the players but show only their hands and the exchange of money between dealers and players.

Exercises May Help Godfrey Miss Operation

BOSTON (AP)—Dr. Otto E. Aufranc of the Massachusetts General hospital says he has prescribed a set of exercises for radio-TV star Arthur Godfrey which may prevent another hip operation.

Dr. Aufranc said Godfrey "has made progress with certain muscle groups, and now he is to concentrate on exercising certain muscles for two weeks before any plans are made."

Godfrey told a radio audience last week there was "something mechanically wrong" with his hip, and added "I've got to go back to the hospital and have it done all over again."

Steel Industry Looking Into Crystal Ball

By SAM DAWSON
PITTSBURGH (AP)—The steel industry looks on the next few weeks as its crystal ball.

1. Bargaining starts today with the CIO United Steelworkers. That will settle the question of a strike or a threat of it, and needs sales or of whether wage rates will rise and operating costs with them.

2. A recent flurry of orders has led many to believe that the first two weeks of May have seen the low point reached and a turn-about is in order. If it proves only a flurry, the industry will enter the dull summer season with its hopes transferred to fall.

3. The weeks just ahead should show much about the inventory adjustment. If it is about over, there should soon be an end to the price cutting at the warehouse level, and to the selling of steel by customers who found they had too much on hand. Prices, still holding at the mill, should turn firmer in the outside market.

Optimism for the long term is strong here.

"We should soon be able to find out what normal peacetime steel demand is," a Pittsburgh official of U. S. Steel says. "Right now we don't know. We're sure that steel consumers, by living off inventories, are using more metal than we are producing or selling now. Just as we know that a year ago we were producing more steel than we could sell."

"Abnormal production has ended. Below-normal buying should end by fall at the latest."

"Then we'll know what normal is. And it's sure to be higher than present production."

Pittsburgh Steel's president, Avery C. Adams, has a slightly different angle: "The high wind of competition is blowing hard now on the weaker companies. You'll soon see who the strong ones are, and who the growing ones are."

His company has just completed a 65-million-dollar expansion program and Adams reports orders coming in fast this month for the new facilities.

All hands agree, however, that this year individual orders call for much smaller tonnage than those of former years. Customers are choosy and cautious.

One Hundred Dollar Bills Sell For Nickel

SEATTLE (AP)—One hundred dollar bills sold for a nickel apiece on Seattle's "skidroad" yesterday.

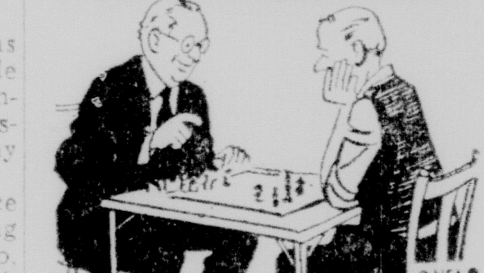

Nels Olson, who found the greenbacks, and cigar store owner Julius Scotch, who bought five of them for a quarter, didn't know they were the real thing. A bank and federal agents quickly set them straight, however, after another purchaser checked up on his bargain.

Olson told authorities he found the bills, 11 of them, in a suitcase in a garbage can. Olson thought they were "stage money" and so did Scotch, who finally was persuaded to buy five of them. The other six went for prices ranging up to 10 cents.

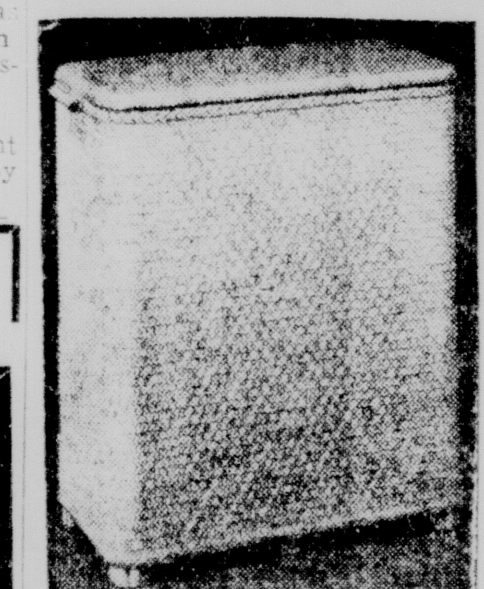

While authorities set out to recover the bills and find the rightful owner, Olson philosophized: "Just one of those things."

British to Find Why the Worst Is Getting Worse

LONDON (AP)—Food Minister Gwyn Lloyd-George announced last night he has asked the most baffling problem of Britain's new Elizabethan Age: What's in a sausage, or why is the worst getting worse?

The British sausage is commonly known as a banger because of its fancied resemblance to a torpedo. This resemblance was enhanced during the meat-shy days of World War II by the substitution of milk powder and bread for the standard meat filling. The postwar banger is still a figure of mystery because of the wide range in the character of its innards.

In an attempt to dispel the fog Lloyd-George told the House of Commons, he is polling city health departments throughout the United Kingdom and has so far received 260 highly variant replies.

In Birmingham, for instance, they settle for 55 per cent meat. Coventry they insist on 65 per cent. Throughout Hertfordshire they scorn anything under 75 per cent. There also are great differences in the kind and amount of spicy flavoring.

"If the minister solves the great sausage mystery he will go down in history as a great man," opined Laborite Norman Dods, who comes from the 60 per cent constituency of Dartford, Kent.

Ireland Conducts An Orderly Election

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Ireland conducted one of the most orderly parliamentary elections today in her history.

Accounts from all 26 counties of the independent republic said voters turned out early in a good humor to make a choice between the followers of Prime Minister Eamon de Valera and John A. Costello.

The prevailing mild spring weather was expected to give De Valera some advantage. The 71-year-old Prime Minister's Fianna Fail (Men of Destiny) party draws its chief strength from rural areas.

Fianna Fail will need heavy backing in the farming districts and villages to win a majority in the 14-seat Dail (Parliament). There are 301 candidates in the field, and Fianna Fail is running against the four-party coalition of Costello's Fine Gael (United Ireland) party, the Labor faction, Clann Na Taimhna (Farmers) and Clann Na Poblachta (Republicans).

The new Dail will serve a term not exceeding five years.

Commie Trial Sets a Record For Its Length

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The conspiracy trial of five Communists set a new record for length of a federal court trial here today.

The trial, being heard before a jury in U. S. Judge Roy W. Harper's court, began Jan. 25. Despite numerous recesses, there has been a total of 45 court days.

In 1938, a mail fraud case here consumed 44 court days.

William Senter, one of the defendants, told the jury yesterday that he urged greater understanding for the Soviet Union at a public meeting sponsored by the Communist party here in 1945.

The defendant said he told the meeting "one of the great dangers" was lack of understanding by Americans of what went on in the Soviet Union and failure of the Russians to understand what was happening in the United States.

Senter said he praised the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt in his talk.

He told the jury he was active as an organizer for the United Electric, Radio and Machine Workers Union, then a CIO affiliate, in 1945 and negotiated pay raises for about 29,000 workers that year.

Other defendants, all charged with conspiring to advocate the violent overthrow of the government, are Robert A. Manowitz, Marcus A. Murphy, James F. Forrest and his wife, Dorothy Rose. Testimony in the trial may be completed this week.

An estimated 27 million cars and trucks in the United States are equipped with radios.

Peter Edson's Column— Truman Returns To Capital Cracking Like a Buggy Whip

WASHINGTON—As relaxed as an old shoe and as corny as a barrel of his native Missouri moonshine, ex-President Harry S. Truman came back to Washington to wow a capacity audience at a National Press Club luncheon.

"I haven't seen as many people here," said Harry, himself a dues-paying member of the club, "since Lauren Bacall sat on the piano."

This was a flash-back to 1945, when Truman as vice president played an accompaniment for the sultry-eyed movie star who sat cross-legged on the upright piano. Pictures of that cheesecake act got Truman into his first trouble after leaving the U. S. Senate for higher office.

But he wasn't mad about that, or at anybody, during this return engagement to the scene of his earlier "crime."

He made a serious speech about "Unity and Bipartisanship in Foreign Policy." You can read about that elsewhere.

Let it be recorded here only that he was feeling no pain and was as full of cracks as a buggy whip.

The first question which Press Club President Ernest P. Vaccaro relayed to Mr. Truman in a lively 25-round Q. and A. bout after the speech was, "Are you in favor of bringing the rascals back?"

Mr. Truman said he was heartily in favor of it, and was doing everything he could to bring it about. They were all there, by the way, at two head tables—ex-Secretary of State Dean Acheson in a loud vest, retired Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan, Don Dawson, Clark Clifford, former RFC Administrator Harry McDonald—and for good measure, John L. Lewis and a dozen others.

It was Homecoming Day all over the lot, and a cockier bunch of Democrats you never saw.

Mr. Truman was asked if he still believed a majority of the newspapers of the U. S. were Republican. He said he still did, and added, "When they get the other way, then I'll know I'm wrong."

He was asked what he would do about Senator McCarthy if he was President? He started to duck that one by saying that he couldn't give a hypothetical answer to a hypothetical question. Then, with some of the old Harry emerging, he said: "If I were the head of the Democratic Party, and if we had a demagogue, as head of the Democratic Party, I'd take care of him."

Asked later if he regarded Senator McCarthy as a Republican or a national problem, Mr. Truman quipped: "I'm so glad it's not my problem. I'm pretty willing to let the Republicans clean up their own mess."

On the Federal Housing Administration scandal, Mr. Truman said he didn't have any information. But if there was anything wrong, Mr. Truman said, "the guilty should be prosecuted and convicted. We're supposed to have an attorney general to do those things."

Was there "a mess" in Washington today? Mr. Truman said he couldn't answer that because he wasn't in Washington. He didn't have any "Central Intelligence Agency" reporting to him.

Was it windier in Independence than it was in Washington? "It is when I'm there," admitted the man from Independence.

He said he couldn't answer questions about the Geneva peace conference because, "It's not customary for me to go off half-cooked on these matters."

Would he run for President again in 1956? Mr. Truman said that in March 1952, he declared he would not run for public office again. He had just turned 70 and he expected to live on borrowed time for the next 20 years. "I have no intention of running for public office again till after I'm 90," he concluded.

Press Club President Vaccaro, recently recovered from an operation, observed here, "I'll trade livers with you right now."

On the question of whether he would rather be a President or an ex-President, Mr. Truman replied that every man owed a duty to his government, but that 30 years of service was enough. "It's a hell of a job now, just trying to be a private citizen."

But he did miss the press conferences, he confessed at the end. And just answering these questions had given him a lift.

Nice and Comfy

Indications are that the Democratic Party of Turkish President Celal Bavar has won an overwhelming victory in the elections for membership to the new assembly. This repeats the party's smashing triumph in 1950.

The news is good for the West, for Bavar and his party have been firm friends of the free nations and seem sure to continue to be. It hardly needs repetition that Turkey is one of the stoutest links in the anti-Communist chain strung from Scandinavia to the Middle East.

The Democrats evidently won upwards of 500 seats out of a total of 541. Our own party leaders must lick their lips in envy at that kind of a working majority. President Bavar ought not to be anticipating trouble in putting his next program across. He could probably muster a winning margin even on Sunday.

Boards Are Wooden

Typical of the gag lines going around a U. S. Chamber meeting were these:

"They call it a 'board' of directors because it's always long, narrow and wooden."

"A man with an open mind is a man with a hole in his head."

Manners Make Friends

One way to lose friends is by always having to be right and by being determined to make the other fellow see things your way. That attitude makes for irritation with people and a feeling of superiority toward them. It's the attitude of the always right man who said:

"You don't have to agree with me—but you must admit I'm right."

Top speed for the giant tortoises of the Galapagos Islands is around 360 yards an hour.

Army Could Not Condone Charges Against Dickenson

By Bruce Blossat

Originally, Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson was one of a group of more than 20 American soldiers held prisoners by the Communists in Korea who declared their intention to stay with communism. Later he changed his mind and asked to be repatriated. Thereafter the Army court-martialed him for allegedly collaborating with the enemy.

Dickenson has now been ordered dishonorably discharged after he serves 10 years at hard labor. His case is, of course, subject to automatic review by an Army board and the Secretary of the Army. If the verdict is upheld, Dickenson's attorneys said they would carry the matter to the U. S. Court of Military Appeals.

It is important to understand what Dickenson is charged with. He is not accused of yielding to extreme physical or psychological pressure from the enemy, as was Col. Frank H. Schwable of the Marine Corps, who along with more than a dozen others signed a false confession that he had taken part in germ warfare.

Dickenson is accused of willing collaboration with the Communist enemy over the two and a half years he was a prisoner. Furthermore, he is specifically charged with informing to the Reds on a fellow prisoner who was planning to escape.

That man, Edward M. Gaither, told the court-martial last month that after he confided his escape plan to Dickenson he was brutally beaten by the Communists and put before a mock firing squad.

We Americans do not expect all our young men who are called to service to display equal fortitude and moral fiber in the face of the trials of war. We know the strain of combat or of prison life will prove too much for some, and they will break physically or mentally.

The pressures can be frightful, and we who sit in our comfortable homes thousands of miles from the scene must strive to be compassionate as we contemplate the frailty of some men.

Nevertheless, neither we as a people nor particularly the Army as our instrument of defense can condone willing cooperation with the enemy for the obvious purpose of easing the personal hardships of war. An army which takes no punitive action against such a free-handed breach of discipline cannot hope to be a tough and effective fighting force.

Several New Drugs Promise Relief From Motion Sickness

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

A person who gets badly seasick or airsick first fears he is going to die and later is afraid he won't.

Perhaps this statement is a little too strong, but certainly no one who has had a real experience with being seasick, airsick, or carsick has any pleasant recollections of the occasion.

There are even more important aspects than discomfort. During the war, for example, many badly-needed sailors and airmen were more or less put out of action because of seasickness or airsickness.

Many people in time can adjust to the motion of ship, airplane or car—developing sea legs is the old expression.

But in one study of this subject from Canada, it was reported airsickness caused a lot of trouble during flight training, particularly the early phase at the elementary air observer or bombing and gunnery school stages. In this investigation, 825 men were swung back and forth in different body positions.

The frequency of "airsickness" symptoms depended partly on the position of the body when it was swung and partly on the way in which the eyes could be used to keep a sense of position. It was concluded that the inner ear was most important, but the eyes played a big part in motion sickness.

Many attempts have been made to find a drug which would prevent or at least improve the symptoms of motion sickness. Because of its practical importance, the Air Force and the Navy have done the most work in trying to find methods to lessen the difficulty.

A great many different drugs have been tried and several of them offer promise of real usefulness.

In one Air Force study, for example, the effects of three drugs were studied, all of which lessened the frequency of airsickness. A drug called scopalamine, alone or in combination with other substances, seems to be of real value. Drugs of the antihistamine family also appear useful, though some seem better than others.

For the airman or sailor, the medical authorities are keeping up with developments in this field. For the ordinary civilian who is susceptible to and likely to be exposed to motion sickness, a prescription from the physician involving the use of one or more of these promising drugs may prove useful.

Musical Overture

Out in Ohio the Republican nomination for the United States Senate was captured by Rep. George Bender, a House veteran. He will run next fall against the incumbent, Sen. Thomas Burke, Democrat, who was named by Governor Lausche to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Taft last summer.

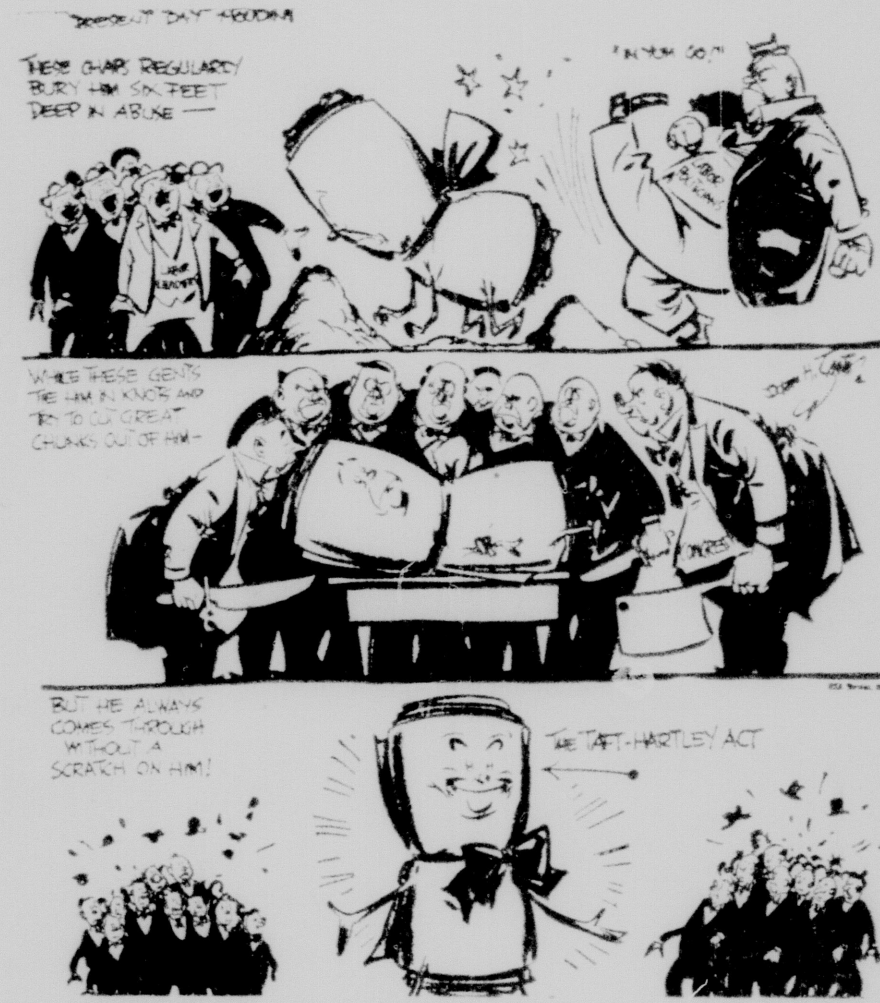

We are not going to commit ourselves on this race, except to observe that it seems to have important overtones for the musical world.

We know nothing of Burke's musical capacities, if any. But Brother Bender is something else. Those Americans who paid close attention to the 1948 Republican convention at Philadelphia will remember his as the holder of the all-time record for singing consecutive choruses of "I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover," the Taft theme song that year.

For volume, energy, stamina Bender could only be commended. Time after time his leathery lungs revived the flagging spirits of the Taft forces.

But musically Bender struck horror in a good many warm Republican hearts. He showed only a passing acquaintance with the key the song was written in. We wouldn't be surprised to learn a number of lighthouses have been trying unsuccessfully ever since to duplicate his foghorn tones.

WASHINGTON — In the late 1920s a man who believed no one should enjoy money he didn't earn was $100,000 in securities. But the set in motion a chain of events that would change American social history.

He was Charles Garland, a white man whose father left him a million dollars. In his belief he had no right to the money. Garland set up a fund to hand it over to causes and organizations he considered good.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The Immanuel Evangelical Church had in prospect a new parsonage for its minister and family, to be of brick veneer with seven rooms and modern improvements. It would occupy the site of the one then in use at 415 West Fourth. The Rev. Emil Abele was the pastor.

1929

Sterling A. Lipscombe, formerly in charge of the new business department of the City Light & Traction Co., was here from Little Rock, Ark., where he was transferred to remain until after the close of school, with his family that was then to join him at Little Rock.

1929

Shields R. Smith, formerly manager of the Bell Telephone Company's offices in Sedalia, was appointed as acting general manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company with headquarters in St. Louis, where he had been division superintendent.

1929

W. F. Keyser, Sedalia, secretary of the Missouri Bankers' Association, was re-elected to that position for the 26th time at a meeting of that body at Excelsior Springs.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Under auspices of Spencer McClure Chapter, Daughters of 1812, Mrs. O. M. Barnett, regent, a marker was placed at the grave of the late Gen. David Thompson, the only soldier of the war of 1812 whose remains were buried in Pettis County. A large crowd attended ceremonies at the Thompson burial ground, one and one-half miles northwest of Georgetown.

1914

Committees were appointed at a meeting of an arrangements group for a Pettis-Whole-County celebration of the Fourth of July.

1914

T. R. Luckett, delegate from Wichita Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, was attending the 55th great council of Missouri at that body at Moberly.

1914

William Schaller, a former Missouri Pacific shopman here, accepted a position at Atlanta, Ga., where he located.

Today's Poem

The following poem, written by Miss Hazel Lang of The Democrat's news staff, also a member of the Fifth Street Methodist Church, was read at the ground-breaking ceremony Sunday noon for the new Wesley Methodist Church. It was written especially for this occasion and was read by Mrs. Dyer.

"O GOD, WE BREAK THIS GROUND TODAY"

O God, we break this ground today

That we may start to build
A place to worship and to pray
And praise of Thee be filled,
A place of beauty may it be,
A place of peace serene,
And in it's quiet may we see
How much You really mean.

May all who enter in its door
Be given inspiration,
May all be welcome, rich or poor,
For holy meditation.

May only kindness and truth
Be found within its wall,
May there be room for all the youth,
May many hear Thy call.

May all the old be smiled on, too,
And given helping hands,
Let them not feel that they are through
And no one understands.

O God, make this a holy place
Where money does not rule,
And make humility the base
Of church and Sunday school.

O God, we ask Thy blessing be
Upon this piece of ground,
And in this temple built for Thee
Our love for Thee be found.

THE accusation in Mrs. Nelson's voice lashed out at Elaine and the last vestige of her confidence coaxed away. Astrid's mother suspected that Elaine had broken that date and was reminding Mrs. Dahlstrom of the fact.

"Yes, Mary, it was broken," Mrs. Dahlstrom admitted with unbelievable nonchalance.

"Oh, how awful! How on earth did you do it? You were always so careful with your things!"

Mrs. Dahlstrom shrugged inconspicuously. "An accident. They happen. No one ever breaks plates on purpose." Mrs. Dahlstrom glanced to the doorway and saw Elaine. For a moment she seemed ready to smile, then apparently decided not to.

Without knowing what to do, Elaine put out her hand to steady herself.

Mrs. Nelson followed Mrs. Dahlstrom's eyes to Elaine in the doorway. She stiffened, but did not smile.

"Mary," Mrs. Dahlstrom said, "I think you know Elaine's my daughter-in-law. She went to high school in Rudeville. Elaine, this is Mary Nelson, Astrid's mother."

Mrs. Nelson's cold eyes seemed to shoot shiny arrows of enmity toward Elaine.

Automatically, Elaine extended her hand as she went across the room to the kitchen table. "Hello, Mrs. Nelson."

Mrs. Nelson let her hand hang in Elaine's hair. The clasp seemed limp and enmeshed during the second it lasted. Then the older woman asked, "Was that you playing the piano?"

Mrs. Nelson's lips curled but they did not seem to make a smile. "Astrid always plays those pieces. You've heard her, haven't you, Signe? She's a fine player. Astrid is. A fine player." She repeated the words with emphasis that was not lost on Elaine. Mrs. Nelson was suggesting that

Gets Five-Year Term For Extortion Plot

LOS ANGELES — A 47-year-old mechanic was sentenced yesterday to five years in prison for a $30,000 extortion plot against Max Factor Jr., cosmetics manufacturer.

U. S. Dist. Judge Ben Harrison denied probation to Wendell Martin Ringholz of Northridge, Calif., who pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted extortion.

Ringholz was accused of sending death threats by mail and telephone to Factor and his family.

The owner had ruled petting on the job "deleterious to peace and order in the shop."

Coal Industry Sees Decline In Work, Jobs

PITTSBURGH — Coal mine operators and miners alike look down a dreary road today. Output, consumption, jobs, work weeks, all are limping.

Lower prices would help sales, this jobs—but how to cut them? Two days from now some of the soft coal mine operators are planning to meet in Chicago to see what can be done. They think Uncle Sam could help—and have definite ideas how.

If they also have any ideas about squirming out from under contracts with the United Mine Workers, with their high wage rates and welfare fund royalties—well, John L. Lewis has just publicly stated he'd take a very dim view of coal companies trying to work on an open-shop basis. He indicated that his men would take an actively antagonistic view too.

Some of the big operators around here aren't hurting so much. In the last 18 months, seeing this day coming, they've cut off marginal mines, concentrated on more profitable ones. But many of the little fellows have closed down.

Only about 280,000 miners are reported working now, compared with 400,000 two years ago.

One thing both owners and miners want to see is some government action to stop the flow of foreign residual oil into this country, which coalmen say undercuts their markets.

They're also leading with the railroads over freight rate hikes. They want government agencies to make the roads cut rates for the ailing coal industry. The rails used to be one of coal's biggest customers. During the war they bought around 10 million tons a month. This year it's down to little more than one million a month, thanks to the change-over to diesel engines.

U.S. Is Preparing For Red Assault On H-Bomb Tests

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States is quietly preparing for an expected Soviet assault in the U. N. Trusteeship Council on the recent series of hydrogen weapon tests in the Pacific Islands administered by the United States.

The Soviet Union is expected here to assail the tests next month when the Council takes up a petition from more than 100 residents on the Marshall Islands asking that the tests be stopped immediately or that proper safety measures be taken.

The petition was made public here last Friday, the day after the United States announced the current series of hydrogen bomb tests had been completed. The petitioners said some of the islanders suffered physical injury and had to leave their homes.

U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. assured the U. N. and the petitioners that they would receive compensation. He also said adequate safety measures would be taken in the event of future tests.

The petition will be taken up when the Council debates the United States' report on administration of the Pacific Islands overseas. The report, released today, said that during the past year the inhabitants of the islands "have continued to become increasingly aware of their place in the modern world and their position as inhabitants of a trust territory."

The report indicated the islands have shown general improvement. It said there is no known case of addiction to narcotic drugs in the entire territory and there is no juvenile delinquency.

Greensboro Begins Study of Way to Obey Supreme Court Ruling

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—The Greensboro School Board has told its superintendent of schools to start studying "ways and means for complying with" the Supreme Court decision that racially segregated public schools are unconstitutional.

Members said after passing the resolution 6-1 last night they consider it the first official affirmative reaction to the decision taken in states practicing school segregation.

Board Chairman D. E. Hudgins introduced the resolution. He said its adoption "would let the community, the state, the South and if necessary the nation know that we propose to live under the rule of law."

"We must not fight or attempt to circumvent it," he declared.

Dachshund Takes Care Of Easter Duckling

OMAHA — There's just one thing that makes Bruney, the dachshund, a little sure.

That's when Punch, the Easter duckling, decides he's a dog and hooks on to one of Bruney's bones.

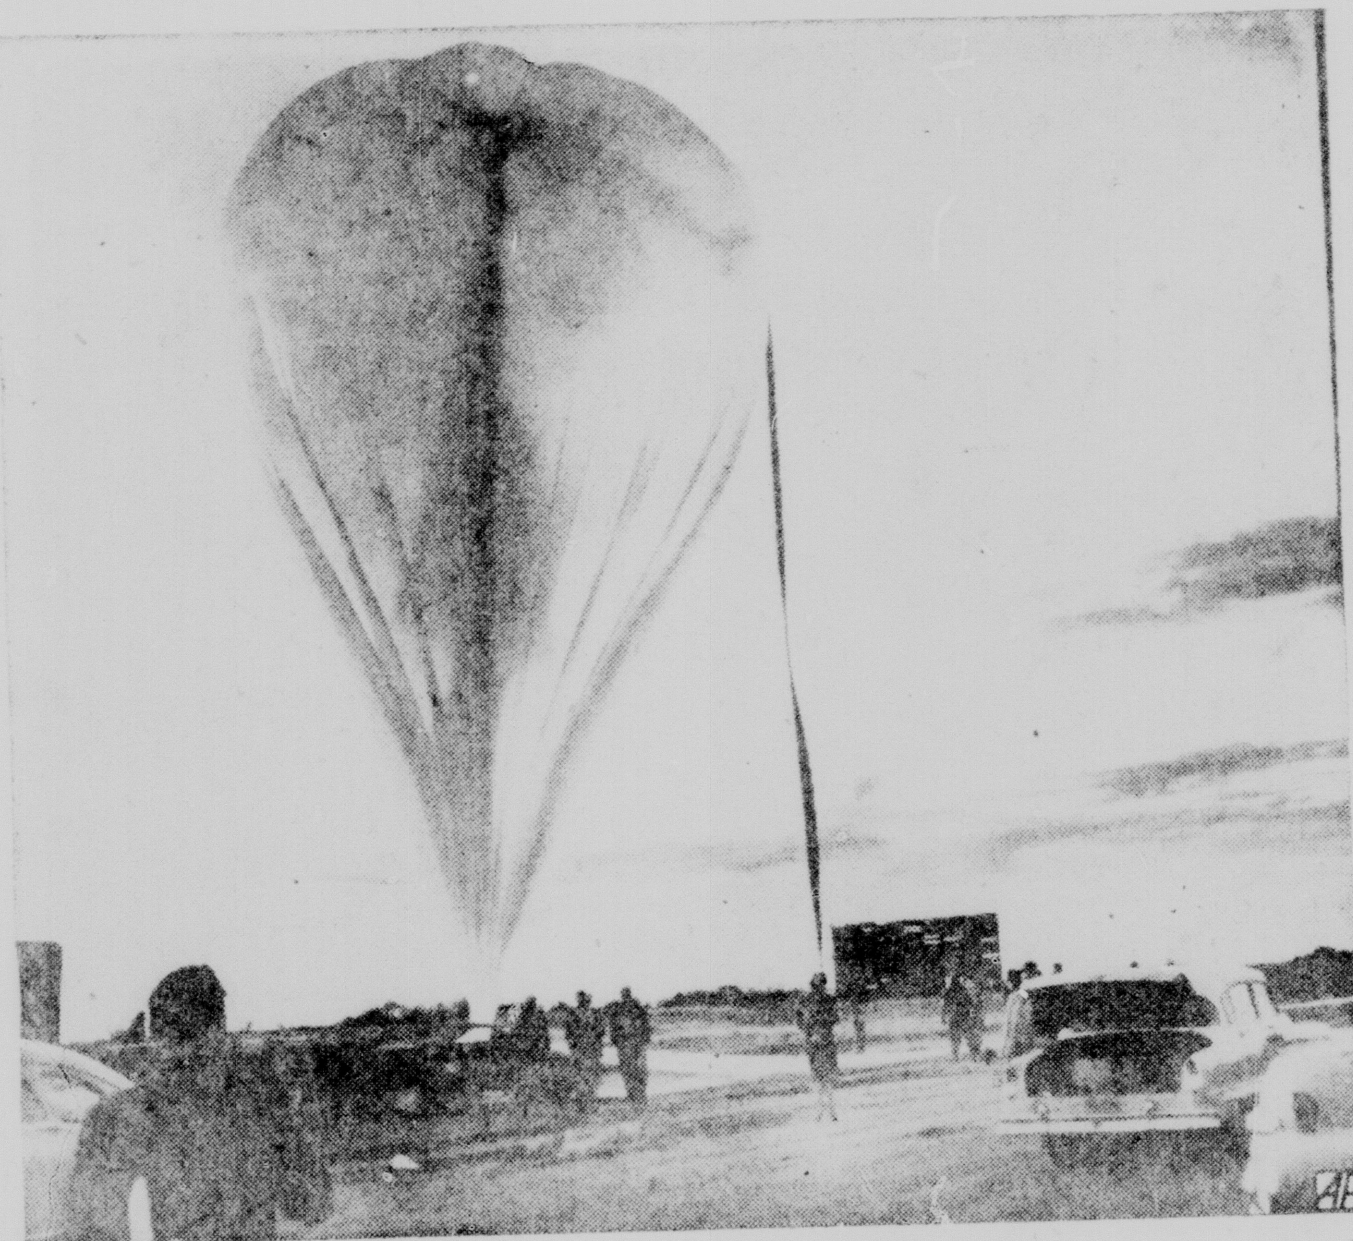

Otherwise Bruney has taken the job of raising Punch in stride. He's been doing so ever since Judy, another Easter duckling at the John Wagner home, died.

Bruney washes Punch's feathers and even permits him to dip his bill in the dogfood, drawing the line only at bones.

At night the Wagners put Punch in a box. The duckling's squawks of protest bring Bruney running. The dog tips over the box and the friends retire to Bruney's rug.

SETS ALTITUDE MARK—A launching crew prepared to free this big plastic balloon for a record shattering altitude flight of over 21 miles into the upper atmosphere near Minneapolis, Minn., May 18. The big bag, made by General Mills Inc., carries secret scientific instruments for the office of Naval Research. The "bubble" shown in the picture is only the top section of the balloon; the rest of it is visible along the ground to the right. While the balloon was inflated with helium through a plastic tube, shown hanging from the right side of the "bubble," the balloon was anchored to the heavy wheeled device at left. The balloon when it became fully inflated was about the size of a football field. (AP Wirephoto)

Today's College Grads Picking Jobs, Not Just Being Picked

KANSAS CITY — It's happy hunting for jobs again this spring among Missouri's college graduates.

They are picking the positions instead of standing in line to be picked. Demand for their services is greater this spring than a year ago and starting salaries are generally higher, an Associated Press survey shows.

"Swamped" is the word used to describe their situation by college placement directors. But they admit that while harried, they are in the happy position of having more job offers than students to fill the jobs.

Not in 10 years has the demand for graduates been so great reports one of them, Everett Brown of Northwest Missouri State college at Maryville.

At St. Louis University more than 200 business firms have sent scouts to the campus, twice as many as a year ago, to look over the talents among the grads.

There are many reasons for the broad demand. But it boils down to one thing—not enough to go around. The 1954 seniors, born in the depression day birth drop, make up smaller classes. And as for the male graduates, many of them face the immediate prospects of service in the armed forces.

As usual, teachers lead the 1954 popularity parade. They are being wooed with higher starting salaries in most parts of the state, pictures of improved teaching conditions and brochures of new school plants.

Among the teachers, the elementary majors are out in front. The big crop of post World War II pupils is the reason for that. But college heads say the same kind of demand is coming for teachers in the upper grades and secondary schools.

Much in demand are music teachers and physical education majors, who generally command higher salaries, and English and science teachers.

Many school boards have raised salaries, but even at that they have to compete with tempting offers to prospective teachers from other states.

"We've had long distance calls from schools in Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa, offering our teacher graduates very high salaries," said Mrs. Mary Robinette, placement director at Southwest Missouri State.

She told of one call from a western Kansas school offering a starting salary of $4,500 for a nine-month contract. Central State College of Warrensburg reported inquiries from as far away as Colorado, Arizona and California.

Dr. L. A. Eubank, director of teachers' placement at the University of Missouri said he had received many inquiries from out of the state "but most of our girls, particularly in the elementary field, want to teach at home."

He told of a California school official who wanted further interviews with six or eight students he previously had interviewed.

"But not a one wanted to go," he reported.

There's a lively scramble on for business and industry. Reports from Washington University, the University of Missouri and St. Louis University, however, indicate business firms are getting a little more selective while offering starting salaries ranging up to 10 per cent higher than a year ago.

"Companies this year seem more interested in a student's leadership than his grades," was the observation of Miss Betty Inman, a placement worker at Washington University.

A run down on the job situation at the University of Missouri shows smaller business firms are seeking law graduates at $325 to $350 a month. Commercial firms are seeking agricultural majors at $300 to $340 a month. Demands for social workers far exceed the supply at offers of $3,000 to $3,600 a year.

The elite among the home economic grads are hospital dietitians who have offers up to $4,300 a year. Most colleges reported a big demand for accountants and business majors—and at Southwest Missouri State women are apparently on equal footing with men. The University of Kansas City reported many insurance firms looking for salesmen with degrees.

At the University of Missouri it was reported that engineering and chemistry demands hadn't increased but salaries were from five to seven per cent higher, starting at $360 to $410 a month.

The demand is up at the University of Missouri for journalism graduates at salaries ranging from $60 to $125 a week, with public relations jobs paying the most. At Lincoln University, state Negro college at Jefferson City, journalism grads have an average of three job offers each to choose from.

Some colleges reported an increase in interest among students in retirement plans, insurance provisions and similar benefits. Miss Hattie Elcholtz, placement director at Southeast Missouri State, Cape Girardeau, said questions among the 20 to 21-year-old students ask of company representatives are:

"What is your retirement plan?" "Can I buy stock in your company?"

May Take Year To Evaluate Balloon Data

MINNEAPOLIS — Scientists said today it may take as long as a year to evaluate information gathered by the "Super Skyhook," a huge plastic balloon which soared more than 22 miles into the sky above Minnesota yesterday.

The immense bag was 282 feet long, about the size of an 18-story office building. The balloon came down on the farm of Marvin Arndt, two miles northeast of Madison Lake.

"It looked like a jumble of bed-sheets come loose from a clothes-line," said Wilbert Hart, a neighbor of Arndt's who spied the deflated plastic slithering to the earth. The 50-pound cylinder of instruments came down near Faribault.

Experts who tracked the bag through radio signals said it reached an altitude of between 117,000 and 122,000 feet. That would be a record for this type of balloon, constructed of polyethylene film about half the thickness of a human hair.

The balloon, constructed by General Mills, Inc. for the Office of Naval Research, was the largest of about 1,200 similar plastic bags that have been sent aloft in the past several years.

The experiments are aimed at gathering information on cosmic rays, weather data and other facts from high altitudes. Yesterday's flight covered a pattern of about 80 miles, south and west of Minneapolis.

The bag remained aloft about nine hours after its release from an air port near Minneapolis. It was deflated by an automatic ripcord device which released the instruments and tore the plastic.

Talmadge Is Heckled By Yankee Telephoners

ATLANTA — The telephone rang far into the night after Gov. Herman Talmadge commented on the U. S. Supreme Court decision striking down public school segregation.

He had said that Georgia people "cannot and will not accept a bald political decree . . . which overturns their accepted pattern of life."

Many hecklers telephoned from distant places. Wearily, Talmadge finally turned over the phone answering to his wife.

"Tell those Yankees the governor isn't here. Tell them he's busy reviewing troops."

Misery Marchers' Halt Plans for Shutdown Hunger Strike in Rome

ROME — Italy's blind "misery marchers" assured officials that something will be done to boost their 86-month pensions, called off their plans last night for a shutdown hunger strike on Parliament's doorstep.

The bedraggled column of some 600 sightless men and women marched into Rome yesterday carrying signs: "We, Too, Have a Right to Live." Sixty began the march from Florence May 8, and their ranks were swelled by blind demonstrators from cities all over Italy.

Paolo Bentivoglio, president of the National Assn. for the Blind, said some 3,000 "extremely poor" blind now only get 4,000 lire (about $6). He said efforts to have this boosted to $25 have failed.

Officials promised the marchers they would do all they could to increase the pensions.

Russia Returns Eight More Lend-Lease Ships

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—The Soviet Union has returned eight more ships lend-leased to it by the United States during World War II, leaving approximately 634 to be returned or accounted for.

The eight, small motor torpedo boats and subchasers, were turned over to U. S. naval officials in the Sea of Marmara yesterday.

The Russians previously had returned 27 frigates, 3 icebreakers and 9 merchant vessels. They have agreed to sail 30 more torpedo boats and subchasers to Istanbul for transfer before the end of June.

US Pledges Aid To Pakistan's Armed Forces

WASHINGTON — The United States formally pledged today to provide "military equipment and training assistance" to Pakistan's armed forces.

The agreement, bitterly opposed by India, was signed at Karachi by Pakistan's foreign minister Sir Mohammed Zafrulla Khan, and John Kenneth Emerson, American Embassy charge d'affaires.

The action, announced here, paves the way for sizable shipments of American weapons to modernize Pakistan's army so it can help guard that Asiatic region against possible Communist aggression.

In an obvious move to reassure India, the United States and Pakistan simultaneously exchanged notes setting forth "their mutual understanding" that the agreement:

1. Does not involve granting of military bases on Pakistan soil to the United States.

2. Does not establish a military alliance between Pakistan and the United States.

American defense strategists regard arms aid to Pakistan as part of a move to build up the defensive strength of the entire Middle East.

Chief Ft. Monmouth Intelligence Officer Asks for Retirement

EATONTOWN, N. J. (AP)—The Army's chief intelligence officer at Ft. Monmouth, which has been the target of a probe by Sen. McCarthy's Senate Investigations subcommittee, has applied for retirement on health grounds.

Andrew J. Reid, 54, of Eatontown, has been in the civilian post since 1946. He said he suffered a heart attack Dec. 27 and has not been back on the job since. He said last night he applied for retirement April 6.

Reid was praised by McCarthy for doing a good job at Ft. Monmouth. The intelligence agent had testified before the subcommittee in Washington Dec. 9.

McCarthy claimed an espionage ring operated at the supersecret radar laboratories in the fort. A loyalty-security check there resulted in the suspension of 35 civilian later reinstated. Secretary of the Army Robert Stevens said there was no record of current espionage there.

Junior Legion Team Opens Play Tonight

Bob Abney Probably to Start on Mound
Faces Eldon at Liberty Park, 8 O'Clock;

The Junior Legion baseball team of Post 16 will open its season tonight at Liberty Park diamond, facing the Eldon Junior Legion team. Game time will be at 8 p. m.

The Post 16 team is sponsored by the W. A. Smith Ford Motor Company.

The team is composed of 14 players, coached by Bobby Brown and Paul Mines. Coach Brown will probably start Bob Abney on the mound against the Eldon team with Kenneth Buhlig, Gary Wickliffe and Clyde Kubli in reserve. Either Larry Mines or Don Barbour will do the receiving.

The Eldon team is rated as one of the best in its district and a very close game should be expected.

Tonight's game will see several new faces on the Legion team: Larry Wells, first base; Benny Miller on second base; Larry Hudson, infielder; Charles Barnes, outfield; Clyde Kubli, pitcher and Kenneth Buhlig, pitcher, who was a starter for the high school team this year.

Players from last year are Bob Abney, Gary Wickliffe, Don Barbour, Larry Mines, Merlyn McCown, Jimmy Swafford, Matney Lane and Charles Case.

Card Pitching Improves, Team Moves Near Top

NEW YORK (AP)—St. Louis Cardinals pitching has improved or the opposition batters are falling off and, whatever the reason, the Redbirds for the first time this year have completed two straight games without relief hurlers.

Gerry Staley turned the trick last night against the Giants as his teammates maintained their betting strength for a 9-3 triumph over the New Yorkers.

Staley's seventh-inning performance, his third victory of this season, placed the Redbirds four percentage points shy of the National League's top spot behind Brooklyn and Philadelphia, both now tied for first in the race.

Six hits in the first two innings, good for an equal number of runs, shelled Giant hurlers Larry Jansen and Jim Hearn from the mound.

Red Schoendienst hit a double and home run in five trips; the plate and Wally Moon included a two-bagger in his two hits. Stan Musial singled twice in three trips.

With St. Louis in front 6-0 after two innings the Giants began to nibble slowly at the lead but Staley, after giving up two unearned runs in the third and a tally in the fifth kept the Giants at bay.

The Redbirds' best frame was the second when, with two out and Del Rice on second with a double, Moon hit his two-bagger, scoring Rice, Solly Hemus walked. A double by Davey Williams of Schoendienst's grounder and a bad throw let Moon score and Hemus take third.

A single by Musial, a passed ball and single by Ray Jablonski completed the action with three more runs.

Fiore After 8th Straight Victory In Tonight's Bout

DETROIT (AP)—Brooklyn strong boy Carmine Fiore shoots for his eighth straight victory tonight in a promising welterweight scrap against Army-bound Jed Black, a graduate of Michigan State College.

Fiore, a savage left hooker, is an 8 to 5 choice to halt Black's gaudy unbeaten string in their nationally televised 10-rounder from Olympia Stadium. TV time is 8 p. m. (CST).

Black, an unspectacular, but steady workman from Janesville, Wis., is unbeaten in his last 27 fights. He has an overall record of 23-1-1, compared to Fiore's 26-15-5.

Both are unranked, 24-year-old welters who have shown remarkable improvement in the last year. There, however, the similarity ends.

Fiore's progress was slow at first. He seemed to hit bottom when Carmine Basilio knocked him out in nine rounds April 11, 1953. Since then, though, Fiore has bounced back with seven straight wins, counting among his victims Joey Klein, Danny Giovannelli, Danny Womber and, most recently, Italo Scottichini.

Black, on the other hand, learned to fight on a college campus and hasn't tasted defeat since Oct. 1, 1952, when he dropped a decision to Herbie Schoen in his third pro start. Several weeks later Black made amends for his lone loss, knocking out Schoen.

This may be Black's last fight for some time. He's slated to enter the Army as a 2nd Lieutenant May 23.

Yesterday's Games— Traffic Jam At The Top Of Standings

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

Before long they may have to install traffic signals to untangle the jam that's developing in the race for first place in the National League.

Seven of the eight clubs—everybody but Pittsburgh—have joined in the fun. And even the Pirates have been winning often enough to keep the others wary.

Only a two-game spread separates the Chicago Cubs in seventh place from the Philadelphia Phillies and Brooklyn Dodgers, who are deadlocked at the top.

The Cubs, who have played fewer, are even closer in the vital "games lost" column. Chicago has lost 14 games, the Phils and Dodgers 13 each.

With the race so tight, a single victory or loss can send a team bouncing up or down the standings. Last night, for example, the New York Giants went into their game with the St. Louis Cardinals in third place but with a chance to take over first if they won. Instead, they got beaten 9-3 and tumbled to fourth.

The Cardinals took over third, where they trail the leaders by a bare four percentage points.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia both lost last night. The slumping Dodgers again were held to a single run and bowed 7-1 to Warren Hacker and the Chicago Cubs. Milwaukee beat the Phillies 6-2. Cincinnati defeated Pittsburgh 6-5 in the other National League contest.

The first-place race in the American League also is close but it doesn't go as deep into the standings. Fourth-place Detroit is only two games out, but Baltimore, in fifth, is 6½ behind.

Cleveland hung on to the lead by whipping Boston 6-3 for its sixth straight victory. The New York Yankees moved into second with a come-from-behind verdict over the Chicago White Sox 4-3. Detroit trimmed Philadelphia 8-3 and Washington defeated Baltimore 3-1.

The Cardinals converted six hits into six runs in the first two innings with the help of two Giant errors. Red Schoendienst hit his first home run in the eighth. Hank Thompson hit one for the Giants. Gerry Staley stayed the distance for the second time this season and picked up his third victory. Stan Musial singled twice, walked twice and struck out.

White Hacker was taming Brooklyn on four hits, the Cubs opened with four straight singles and scored four runs in the first inning against Billy Loes.

Curt Simmons pitched three hitless innings for the Phils against the Braves and held a 1-0 lead going into the sixth when his magic exonerated after an error by Grampy Hamner in the tying run.

Rosen blasted two home runs and drove in another with a double for Cleveland. Boston got three runs in the first two innings off Art Houtteman, who was replaced by Bob Chakales in the second.

Ted Williams played at night for the first time and collected one single in four appearances. He failed twice with the bases loaded and two out.

The White Sox pulled away to a 3-0 lead only to get caught by the Yankees in the eighth when, with two out and one on, Gene Woodling hit a home run.

Steve Gromek became the winning pitcher in either league when he picked up No. 7 for the Tigers at the expense of the Athletics. The former Cleveland right-hander won only seven all last season. He's been beaten once.

Baltimore's Bob Turley, who seems to get involved in close games whether he wins or loses, just a close one this time to Maury McDermott of the Senators. All Washington runs came in the sixth, two of them on a triple by Mickey Vernon.

Reese, Rizzuto Seem To Mellow With Age In Defensive Play

NEW YORK (AP)—Shortstops Pee Wee Reese of Brooklyn and Phil Rizzuto of the New York Yankees can be called "old" as ballplayers go, but if their defensive showing this season is any indication, they're mellowing with age.

Figures compiled by the Associated Press through Monday's games disclosed today that the 34-year-old Reese, a Dodger since 1949, is leading the National League shortstops in fielding with a .977 average.

Rizzuto, 35, is the top man in the American League at his position with a .973 mark on four misplays in 150 chances. The Scooter was high man on defense in 1949 and '50, has taken part in 19 twin-killings.

Reese, who has been a steady force in the field since 1941, has a .975 average in 1953. He has been a steady force in the field since 1941, has a .975 average in 1953.

Rosen Heads for Same Titles In Batting Race

CLEVELAND (AP)—Al Rosen, who won the American League home run and runs batted in titles in 1953 and finished second in the batting race, was in the same spot in all three departments today.

The hard-hitting Indians' third baseman paces the junior circuit in homers with eight and runs batted in with 36. At 37½, he's nerper to teammate Bobby Avila, the loop's top hitter, at 379.

Gorgeous Geo. Meets Brown Friday Night

Gorgeous George, Hollywood, Calif., famed heavyweight wrestler, is coming to Sedalia on Friday night. He is scheduled to meet the new sensation of young heavyweights, the Philadelphia Phillies, in Richard Brown of Kansas City in the main event.

This is the second time Gorgeous George has invaded the Sedalia ring, having come here four seasons ago. At that time he provided a real hour show that night when he beat Marshall-Esteppe in the local ring two out of three falls.

In fact it was Thursday night March 23, 1950 that George made his appearance in the Sedalia ring. There was no doubt as to it, the fans all favored Esteppe, instead of Gorgeous George who walked into the ring with his flowing robes, the permanent wave of golden curls followed by a valet who sprayed perfume all over the place.

"Was a night not to be forgotten too soon by local fans who were all hoping that this person 'so beautiful' would be pinned to the mat. George out-smarted Esteppe in this match to win, and to anger the fans other than Esteppe.

As matters stand, Native Dancer now is even with the record held by Man O'War when the latter was retired by his owner, the late Sam Riddle, at the conclusion of his 3-year-old campaign in 1920-21 races, 20 wins, 1 defeat. The Dancer won his first two as a 4-year-old, an opportunity which was denied the horse known as Big Red.

Native Dancer will have his chance to go out by himself when he runs in the Suburban Handicap, most coveted of this country's handicap events, at Belmont Park on May 31, over a mile and one quarter. The Dancer carried 130 pounds last week, and the burning question is the weight which will be loaded onto him in the Suburban.

Sports Roundup— Native Dancer Stands Equal To Great Work of Man O' War

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—There is much excitement at present over a big grey horse named Native Dancer, which damaged the hearts of uncounted millions of television viewers by the breathless manner in which he won the Metropolitan Handicap at Belmont Park over the weekend.

There might never have been greater finish to a horse race than when Al Vanderbilt's wonderful runner came from far back 3½ miles to win the race.

At least, to say that such a thrilling finish never before was witnessed by so huge an audience.

And so now the Grey Ghost belongs to the nation, and when the word begins going recklessly around that here, at last, is the equal of the immortal Man O' War, there must be ready belief in millions of living rooms. Also, there must be an extraordinary interest in the future plans for this amazing hunk of horseflesh.

As matters stand, Native Dancer now is even with the record held by Man O'War when the latter was retired by his owner, the late Sam Riddle, at the conclusion of his 3-year-old campaign in 1920-21 races, 20 wins, 1 defeat. The Dancer won his first two as a 4-year-old, an opportunity which was denied the horse known as Big Red.

Jabbo Says 'Talking Bat' Gets His Hits

NEW YORK (P)—Ray (Jabbo) Jablonski, the strong silent man of the St. Louis Cardinals, today credited his climb to National League batting heights to his "talking bat."

"Every time I go up to the plate," the slugging sophomore third baseman quipped as he fondly patted the heavy end of his bat, "my baby here keeps repeating 'base hit, base hit, base hit.' I've tried not to disappoint my baby very often."

"Seriously, though," the soft voiced Chicagoan continued, "I believe I'm hitting better this year because I have lost my nervousness and have gained confidence. I always was able to hit in the minors. Last year was my first in the big leagues and I guess I pressed too much in my eagerness to make good."

"Well, I've put in my one year's apprenticeship in the big leagues and I don't have to press any more. I'm confident I can hit up here and I guess it's reflected in my work so far."

Jablonski's stickwork in his freshman season needs no apology. All he did was slam 21 home runs and drive in 112 runs, second only to Stan Musial's club high of 113 RBIs. He batted .268.

Jablonski proceeded to kick the sophomore jinx right in the face by boosting his batting mark more than 100 points to .377, while driving in 31 runs to rank with the leaders. His 52 hits and 12 doubles are tops in the league. He drove in two runs with a pair of singles last night to help the Cardinals defeat the New York Giants 9-3. Jablonski's main ambition, next to getting into a world series, is to lead the league in runs batted in.

"That's not going to be easy," he said, "what with having to follow Musial in the batting order. In order to win an RBI, a fellow has got to be up there a lot with men on the bases. With Stan hitting all those home runs, he doesn't leave me many guys to drive in. Whenever I shake his hand after a home run, I growl at him, 'why didn't you walk, you son of a gun?'"

Evans Hits USGA Rule Forcing Open Champs to Qualify

CHICAGO (P)—Chick Evans today accused the United States Golf Assn. of "making ghosts" of golf's old timers and wrecking the tradition of its U. S. Open tournament. The ruddy-faced Evans, winner of some 53 major amateur titles and still swinging for more at the age of 63, attacked a new USGA rule that makes it necessary for former open champions prior to 1950 to qualify for the tournament. The rule becomes effective next year. Previously, all ex-champions were exempt.

"It means that I for one, will not play in the 1955 Open," said Evans, who won the Detroit as well as the U. S. amateur in 1916. "And that probably will go for a lot of other fellows — like Tommy Armour, Johnny Farrell, Gene Sarazan, Billie Burke, Freddie McLeod. This new rule has turned us into a lot of ghosts."

"Tradition is one of the wonders of golf. The USGA has now wrecked this tradition," Evans charged that "golf politics" were responsible for the new rule and urged reconsideration. "No other sport has such excellent tradition as the U. S. Open," he said. "The old champions gave a dignity to the Open that was felt right through the three days of the tournament. It was the USGA's duty to preserve it, and they failed."

Tiger's House Becomes Alive After 5 Years

DETROIT (P)—After five uncertain years, catcher Frank House—a $75,000 bonus bust up until now—is starting to pay overdue dividends to the Detroit Tigers.

In a 13-game hitting streak, the 24-year-old backstop has pushed his average a remarkable 180 points—from .191 to .371, making him the third leading hitter in the American League.

House delivered a single and double yesterday to help the Tigers to an 8-3 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics.

And now there is speculation whether the handsome Alabamian is ready to become Detroit's first outstanding catcher since the golden days of Mickey Vernon in the mid-thirties. It's been that long, since the Tigers have had a truly top-grade receiver.

The Tigers signed House in the fall of 1948 for a then-fabulous $15,000 and two automobiles. There followed five years of frustration, for both House and the Tigers, and this spring the club was ready to write him off as a costly loss and ship him to the minors.

House had been something less than sensational in his professional career, hitting .261 in 1949 with the Tigers, .232 in 1950 with the Detroit Tigers, and .232 in 1951 with Toledo of the American Assn. Between these mediocre performances, he sat on the Detroit bench and spent two years in the Army.

He returned to the Tigers this spring and was utterly helpless in pre-season drills.

The Tigers were set to farm House to Little Rock when a high-ranking member of the Detroit front office was dispatched to the Detroit training base in Lakeland, Fla. to give the situation one more look.

On May 1, the transformation began. House started his 13-game hitting streak, and his play behind the plate became steadier, surer.

Whether his climbing batting average will come crashing down is not known, of course, but at least he has given hope to the Tigers, and that's something the club has had very little of during the last few seasons.

Tigers Maul Nebraska, Secure at Least a Tie For Big 7 Pennant

KANSAS CITY (P)—The Missouri Tigers assured themselves at least a tie for the Big Seven baseball pennant by mauling Nebraska 18-1 at Columbia yesterday.

The victory, an easy one considering Nebraska committed nine errors, gave the Missourians a 9-1 league record with only two games to go.

The Tigers can clinch the title by beating Iowa State at Ames either Friday or Saturday. They can back into the banner by losing both games at Ames if Oklahoma loses one of its four remaining contests.

Oklahoma, beaten twice by Missouri in the fall end of a six-game road trip last week, is scheduled to play Colorado at Norman Friday and Saturday and Iowa State on the same diamond May 28 and 29. The Oklahomans have a .5-3 record.

Conley Led League in Nine Departments

MILWAUKEE (P)—Gene Conley, number one minor league pitching prospect for the Braves, had a sensational season in 1953 with Toledo. The 6-8 right-hander led the American Association in nine departments. He had the most wins (25-9), best percentage (.719), best earned run average (2.90), most strikeouts (211), most shutouts (4), faced the most batters (944), made the most starts (32), completed the most games (24), and appeared in the most innings (261).

Stengel Clips ChiSox Twice

CHICAGO (P)—Casey Stengel brought his New York Yankees to town yesterday and made the White Sox take it on the chin twice—on the field and verbally.

The Yanks played before the largest home crowd of the season and pulled out a 4-3 victory over the Sox when Gene Woodling hit a two-run homer in the eighth and Vogt Berra knocked in a tie-breaking run in the ninth.

Stengel aimed at sweeping the two-game series by sending his ace southpaw "soft stuff" pitcher Ed Lopat, who has won five straight, against the Sox' Billy Pierce (2-3) today.

Adding to the Sox' discomfort—at least for General Manager Frank Lane—were Casey's observations on the Sox and Lane in particular. He softened this, however, with a complimentary remark about Sox Manager Paul Richards.

"Looks like Richards is doing a right good job again," said Stengel. "But it seems to me that other fellow out there (Lane) who does all the talking about the time he was getting himself a long-term contract with the Sox, should have thought about nailing Richards down with one too. Richards' current two-year pact expires after this season."

"That guy's a pretty good manager," the way I watch him doing things. . . . And I shouldn't be talking Lane to keep him because if he went out of the league, maybe I'd last longer myself. I kinda got an idea that a few other clubs might be interested in Mr. Richards for a term of years. You don't get managers as good as that one every time you pick. You know."

Does that mean the White Sox are the team Stengel fears most in the American League race this year?

"No," he said. "We fear everybody and we fear nobody, depending on the situation. The whole league is much faster. The Tigers and A's have more speed and we're not supposed to have much pitching. So maybe everybody'll be tired by September and we'll have to start all over again."

Scout Chides Tense Batters

ST. LOUIS (P)—Joe Monohan, scout for the St. Louis Cardinals, claims that many players today are "too tense when batting. They aren't relaxed."

"The whole thing lies in relaxation," says the Red Bird talent scout. "During a pregame session before a game, batters usually have a nice, comfortable stance. They're loose and relaxed. They're hitting the ball, not merely swinging at it."

"But when the game starts the same batters flex their muscles, get a death grip on the bat and try to flatten the ball. Usually they massage the atmosphere only."

Monohan believes that players should apply the basic principle of pregame sessions to game situations. He asserts that no one can hit a ball properly when tense.

"Look at Stan Musial and Red Schoendienst," says the scout.

Petrov Spy List Shows Aussies Who Gave Data

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—The Petrov spy documents list two and possibly three members of Australia's house of Representatives as having unwittingly given information to Soviet agents, the Royal Commission on Espionage was told today.

The commission's counsel, W. J. Windever, made the revelation during the second day of preliminary hearings into the story of Russian spy in Australia told by Vladimir Petrov, former Soviet Embassy third secretary here who played information and quit the Reds and was given political asylum.

The counsel said one of the documents turned over by Petrov related to American and Japanese interests in Australia. He said it was 37 pages long but did not disclose its contents.

He said one of the two members of Parliament definitely mentioned in the papers as unwitting informants was from the Liberal-Country party government coalition and the other was from the opposition Labor faction.

He did not reveal their names, Windever, made the revelation during the second day of preliminary hearings into the story of Russian spy in Australia told by Vladimir Petrov, former Soviet Embassy third secretary here who played information and
